Mrs. Lindbergh To Be Witness In Hauptmann Trial

Attorney General Claims State Prepared Without Any Waste Of Time

High Official Says Mrs. Lindbergh Will Be Voluntary State Witness

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 28.—(UP)—Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh will be "a voluntary and important witness" at the murder trial of Bruno R. Hauptmann, January 2, a state official told the United Press today.

Mrs. Lindbergh will be a willing witness and will testify without being subpoenaed, the official said. "The state looks upon her as a very important witness."

The official who made the announcement refused to allow his name to be used.

The state's case, by which it hopes to prove Hauptmann murdered the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, was completed except for a few points in law. Attorney General David T. Wilentz announced the prosecution would present its case without waste of time.

Lloyd Fisher, Frederick A. Pope and Egbert Rosenkrans of defense counsel also reported their case well in hand. They conferred in Somerville, N. J., but prepared to move their headquarters here within a day or two.

COUNTY SERA PROJECTS CALL FOR $99,586 EXPENDITURE

RICHBERG SAYS RELIEF BURDEN NOT SO HEAVY

Tells Cleveland Audience 2,000,000 Cases Less Than Year Ago

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Recovery Coordinator Donald R. Richberg, in an address opening the Cleveland Civic Exposition, said today that the federal relief load this winter is running about 2,000,000 cases below last year.

Richberg said that, "contrary to common misunderstanding," the size of the relief load was diminishing slowly but surely.

It has been a mistaken habit to compare the relief roll of last year with that of this year," Richberg said, "ignoring the fact that in addition to last year's relief roll the federal government carried over 4,000,000 persons in the civil works administration.

"This year all cash relief and work relief is carried on the federal emergency relief roll."

He pointed out that relief rolls had failed to rise substantially as might be expected during October, November and December. This, he said, "is the most heartening indication of a permanent gain in employment that could be presented."

Richberg attacked suggestions, such as that presented by the U. S. chamber of commerce and National Association of Manufacturers that a dole be substituted for work relief.

"There are today a large number of business men," he said, "who were opposed to the dole two years ago because of its cost, and who now favor the dole because it will cost them less, than to give men work."

"I think that is a very short-sighted view. It isn't always sound business judgment to pay the cheapest price for a thing. And it is often very bad political judgment to buy the cheapest protection of national security. We may have some reasonable fears of a foreign foe, but the gravest dangers that threaten America are those of internal dissension.

"Perhaps it might be cheaper even in a money sense to find work for these idle hands to do than to support the armies necessary to hold them back if once those millions of pleading fingers were turned into threatening claws."

1935 OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS IS OPTIMISTIC

Executives In Practically All Major Lines Predict Few Obstacles

(Copyright 1934 by United Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Big business is heading into the new year in an attitude of cautious optimism. High executives in practically all major lines foresee further improvement in 1935, although not without some obstacles.

A cross-section of American industry on the outlook for 1935 was obtained in the following survey by the United Press.

Alfred P. Sloan, jr., president, General Motors corporation—the fact that there is a foundation not only for recovery but the possibility of accelerating the processes of recovery, and a broadening intelligence as to the principles involved in the solution of the component problems, justifies the belief that we are making progress, and that conditions in 1935 should be somewhat better than in 1934.

R. B. White, president, the Western Union Telegraph company—continuation through 1935 of the present improvement is dependent upon stabilization of general economic conditions. If the present growing confidence continues without serious interruption, the prospects are for better business in 1935.

Gerard Swope, president, General Electric company—for the year 1935, we look forward to a continued improvement in business.

Walter S. Tower, executive secretary, American Iron and Steel Institute—On the whole, the outlook is optimistic.

DEATH TOLL IN AUTO MISHAPS OVER 35,000

Fatalities In 1934 Over Nation Greatest In All History, Reported

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Upwards of 35,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents this year, the greatest price this country has ever paid in lives for swift transportation on the highways. Fatalities last year totaled 30,000.

Two independent agencies agreed closely today in their estimates of the 1934 accident toll, based on preliminary reports.

The American Automobile Association figured the year's fatalities at 35,000. The Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., said they would total at least 36,000, with around 1,000,000 injured in 900,000 accidents.

That death toll means that the number of persons killed on the highways in this one year virtually is as large as the number of enlisted men of the A. E. F. killed in action during the World War.

On the average a person has been killed every 15 minutes of the year and someone injured every 31 seconds.

In the last 10 years, more than 290,000 persons have been killed. Experts were wary in assigning causes for the year's great increase in fatalities. The larger number of old and defective machines being used as a result of the depression years and the higher speeds of new models are contributory causes, they believed.

The Travelers reported a decrease of three per cent in the number of accidents per death, and said this "emphasized a trend in more serious accidents that has been evidenced for a number of years."

1005 To Be Given Work Under Plan

Five Relief Proposals Are Given Approval By Assistant Director

FIVE NEW SERA work relief projects for operation in Orange county which will absorb a total of 1005 workers were approved today by Roy W. Pilling, assistant administrator of the state emergency relief administration. The work calls for expenditures of $99,586.

Two of the projects were for major improvements in the county, for flood control and park improvement. These two projects alone will absorb 825 relief workers. Approval by the state ERA means that work can be started at once on the improvements.

One of the major projects was for grading and park improvement and flood control work in Irvine park, with a large portion of the work to be done in the new five-acre tract which James Irvine has leased to the county without charge.

The SERA has appropriated $35,550 for work relief labor on the Irvine park project and the county has appropriated $2000 for materials and supervision. Nat H. Neff, county superintendent of roads, will supervise the work, which will include grading additional paths, straightening and protecting the creek channel, secure and plant native trees and plants and other improvements.

The other major project approved is the combination park and flood control project sponsored by the city of Santa Ana for clearing the site of the work, excavating the channel, constructing bank protection and grading adjacent areas for development of park and recreational areas along Santiago

PROF. ALBERT EINSTEIN SAYS UNIVERSE MAY BE INFINITE; UPSETS RELATIVITY THEORY

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—(UP)—The universe may be infinite after all, Prof. Albert Einstein of relativity fame, the world's greatest scientist, said in an interview today.

By that pronouncement the famous savant upset one of the ideas which generally have been accepted during the last decade upon the basis of his own relativity theory, namely that space is limited or finite.

At the same time, Prof. Einstein expressed his disagreement with the great body of physicists who believe that the law of cause and effect has been found wanting and unworkable. While atomic laws are now being formulated in a fashion which makes no use of the law of cause and effect, Dr. Einstein predicted that physicists would eventually return to its use.

Gives Interview

In the best of humor and looking the picture of health, Prof. Einstein met newspapermen at the home of Nathaniel Spear, a deep chair by the fireplace had been reserved for Dr. Einstein.

Prof. Einstein speaks at 4:30 p. m. today on "An Elementary Proof of the Theorem Concerning the Equivalence of Mass and Energy." This lecture will be the high point of the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which entered upon its third day today with the reading of several hundred scientific papers in some 20 sectional meetings.

It was in 1905 that Prof. Einstein

BEACH FRAUD RESULTS IN INDICTMENT

Costa Mesa Resident Ordered Arrested On Voting Under Wrong Name

ASK BENCH WARRANTS

Buena Park Man Indicted In Connection With Hijacking Of Sugar Truck

TWO INDICTMENTS were returned in superior court today by the Orange county grand jury, one resulting from investigation of the Newport Beach election fraud charges, and the other based upon the Holly Sugar company hijacking case of last August 30, near Delmi.

Rupert P. Jones, said to be a Costa Mesa resident who personated another voter at the city election in Newport Beach last April 9, was indicted on two counts, one of forgery and other of personating another voter. Jones, it is charged, forged the name of James R. Jones, of Newport Beach, to the roster of voters and cast the other man's ballot.

The second true bill returned by the grand jury named August Jungkeit Jr., 23, of Buena Park, hunted by the authorities for complicity with his brother, Herman Jungkeit, 30, in the hi-jacking of 276 sacks of sugar, valued at $1200, from a Holly Sugar Company truck. The younger brother, whose present whereabouts are unknown, was charged with robbery and grand theft.

He is alleged to have abducted the truck-driver, Everett Corneel, of Santa Ana, at the point of a gun, and held him prisoner in an automobile for about two hours, while the elder brother, Herman, made off with the truck-load of sugar.

Herman was tried and convicted two weeks ago and has filed an application for probation, which will be heard January 4. The grand theft charge carries a penalty of from one to ten years in prison, the robbery penalty being from five years to life.

CONTINUATION OF NRA URGED BY C. C.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The U. S. chamber of commerce announced today an "overwhelming majority" of its members had voted to demand industry be permitted to formulate its own rules of fair competition in any future set-up of the NRA.

The business men, it was announced, favor continuation of the NRA by the 74th congress to replace the old NRA which expires June 16, 1935.

They asked "complete revision" of labor clauses and provisions as to minimum prices. Other things they favored included limitation of NRA legislation to businesses engaged in or affecting interstate commerce and making the government's agency a board or tribunal appointed by the president.

NEW PROTEST FILED BY UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(UP)—The United States has renewed representations to the Japanese government in protest of the new Japanese oil control laws, it was revealed at the state department today.

The representations were made orally to the Japanese foreign office yesterday by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, and applied only to the legal restrictions concerning foreign oil companies doing business in Japan proper. Grew did not touch upon the situation in Manchukuo, where foreign oil companies are facing closure as a result of the formation of a state-owned oil monopoly.

FRIENDS PAY LAST RESPECTS TO HUNT

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 28.—(UP)—Thousands of friends—leaders in state and national affairs, workers in the mines and business men—paid their final respects today to George W. P. Hunt, seven times governor of Arizona.

Under the capital dome where he took office as the state's first governor, Hunt's body lay in state. Later today private funeral services were to be held at his home.

SIX RESCUED FROM SNOW IN SIERRAS

SUSANVILLE, Calif., Dec. 28.—(UP)—Two tractors battered their way through deep drifts today to rescue six persons marooned for more than 24 hours in snow near Bridge Creek, isolated hamlet 20 miles north of here.

Those rescued were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Bowen of Susanville, and a Pittville family of two children and their parents whose names were still unknown here.

They were found in a forest ranger's cabin where they had sought shelter before a raging snowstorm early Thursday morning added two feet more of snow to that already on the ground.

None of them had suffered any hardships from their enforced stay in the cold and bleak wilderness.

BIG INCREASE IN TOURIST TRAFFIC

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—A total of $4,294 out-of-state motor tourists arrived in California last month registering an increase of 10.3 per cent over November, 1933, according to official figures obtained by actual count of California Department of Agriculture border officers and filed with the All-Year club.

During the first 10 months of this year 761,913 out-of-state visitors toured California, marking an increase of 17.5 per cent over the corresponding 11 months of 1933.

RECONCILIATION IN ROUMANIA RUMORED

VIENNA, Dec. 28.—(UP)—A reconciliation between King Carol and Queen Helen of Rumania early in 1935 was predicted by many well informed persons today.

Their marriage was wrecked because of Carol's fondness for red haired Mme. Magda Lupescu, for whom he once renounced his rights to the throne.

Although Mme. Lupescu apparently remains Carol's favorite at the Rumanian court, circumstances reports were circulated that Carol and Helen would try to resume married life.

The departure of Crown Prince Michael for Florence to visit his mother, the queen, was made the basis for one report that the king and queen, divorced in 1929, might be reconciled.

1200 NEWSPAPERS PROTEST DECISION

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Because the National Labor Relations board asked the NRA compliance division to withdraw the blue badge of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, representatives of 1200 newspapers will meet in immediate convention to consider their continuance under the daily newspaper code, Howard Davis, chairman of the Publishers' National Code committee, announced today.

Davis said the board's action violated the newspaper code and established a precedent that might endanger the freedom of the press at some later date. The newspaper publishing code contains specific provisions giving the newspaper industrial board jurisdiction over all disputes and the act of the labor board was "an attempt to usurp power over the code," he charged.

The labor board acted after its order to reinstate Dean S. Jennings, a re-write man, who charged he was dismissed because of union activities.

MALONEY RETIRES IN SPEAKER RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Assemblyman Thomas A. Maloney, San Francisco, withdrew today from the contest for speaker of the state assembly, leaving the field practically clear for the selection of Assemblyman Edward Craig of Orange county.

Maloney said he was withdrawing in favor of Craig in order to avoid dissension and with the understanding that "labor will be given its just and fair representation on all committees."

Charles Lyon, Los Angeles assemblyman, previously had stepped from the race to give Craig further strength.

ROOSEVELT PLANS TO DELAY MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(UP)—President Roosevelt probably will delay delivery of his message to congress until the day after congress convenes, Rep. Joseph W. Byrns, D. Tenn., said today.

Byrns, who conferred with the president yesterday, said organization of the house on January 3 probably would take some time, and he believed it preferable to put off until January 4 the message which the president expects to deliver in person.

Byrns said that under this arrangement the budget message probably would not be read until Saturday, January 5. He predicted organization of the house, including committee assignments, would be completed by a week from Monday or Tuesday and that the house would then begin consideration of the independent offices appropriation bill, the first departmental measure of the session.

HAPPEL CONFESSES TO SECOND MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(UP)—John Happel, 37, who admitted he killed his wife because she "nagged" him, was linked with a second murder today by officers who said he confessed shooting Henry W. Meyer, 66-year-old Missouri real estate broker.

There are 350 Austrian Nazis camped at Bad Aibling, refugees from their own country. Some of them, it was said, shouted "down with Hitler" in a cafe. Bavarians responded with cries of "out with these parasites," and the disputants began to fight with furniture and knives. A small riot resulted in which automobile tires were slit and the interior of the cafe was wrecked.

Police were not able to halt the fighting and it was necessary to summon 300 SS troops from Dachau.

Only meager details of the trouble had reached Munich 24 hours after it reached.

GERMAN KILLED IN RIOTS IN VIENNA

MUNICH, Dec. 28.—(UP)—One German was killed and more than 20 men were injured in a fight Wednesday night between Germans and Austrian Nazis at Bad Aibling, a dispatch said today.

DEATH TOLL GROWS IN ENGINE BLAST

POWELLTON, W. Va., Dec. 28.—(UP)—The death of three men at Montgomery from skull fractures suffered in an explosion which shattered a miner's work train brought the death list to 16, while 35 miners remained in hospitals.

The explosions, the falling boiler and escaping steam killed 13 outright and injured 41 others. Three of the injured died within 12 hours. Four others in the hospital were in critical conditions.

GRANDDAUGHTER OF MORGAN IN DEBUT

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(UP)—The season's toniest social event—J. P. Morgan's party in honor of his debutante granddaughter, Louise Morgan—will be held tonight in the magnificent splendor of the Morgan townhouse.

At least 500 guests will attend, including 200 of Miss Morgan's friends. An invitation to the event would make a social reputation—lack of an invitation would break one. Some of the city's most successful social climbers were hoping for a last minute break that would put an invitation in their hands.

The Morgans rarely entertain on a large scale and care nothing for the activities or formalities of society. But when they do entertain, an invitation is worth its weight in gold. Tonight's party will be the first formal ball in the Morgan town house in 10 years.

GOVERNOR EXTENDS CLEMENCY TO TWO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 28.—(UP)—Gov. Frank Merriam extended executive clemency to two state prisoners, one of them a recent mother, before arranging to leave today for Southern California and the Tournament of Roses pageant.

The governor issued a pardon to Mrs. Besie Veglatte, Los Angeles, who became a mother after she had been sentenced to prison on charges of second degree robbery. Los Angeles authorities recommended that she be freed.

The sentence of Al Boconegra, Los Angeles, was commuted to time served to permit his release from Folsom prison. He had been convicted last year on charges of possessing a still.

COMMUNIST TRIAL AGAIN IS DELAYED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 28.—(UP)—Selection of a jury for the trial of 17 asserted Communists charged with criminal syndicalism appeared near today after the defense had exhausted its quota of 95 peremptory challenges and only 10 remained for use of the prosecution.

Further delay in starting the trial was expected, however, following announcement of District Attorney Neil R. McAllister that he would have to choose two alternate jurors who would act in case members of the regular jury became incapacitated. Such action, it was believed, would require at least ten days, as each side would be allowed 17 additional challenges.

The defendants in the case were arrested several months ago during a statewide roundup of alleged agitators and include such well known radicals as Pat Chambers, Al Hougardy, Caroline Decker and Nora Conklin.

TWO INDICTED BY GRAND JURY THIS MORNING

The Jones indictment culminated the grand jury's probe of charges that wholesale fraud attended the last Newport Beach election, taking the form of tampering with voting lists, illegal voting, and irregular conduct by election boards. A group of Newport Beach citizens, represented by Attorney Edgar L. Martin, of Los Angeles, instituted the charges, which were originally laid before the Newport Beach city council, then the district attorney's office, and finally the grand jury.

It was understood that numerous voting irregularities were disclosed to the grand jury, no less than 25 witnesses being summoned who admitted voting at the election, although residing at Costa Mesa or other points outside of the city. Evidence of concerted fraud, promoted by sources within the city, or otherwise, was said to be lacking, however, none of the cases being shown to be linked to any other case. Each such illegal voter appeared to have acted upon his own initiative, a number of them being under the impression that because they owned property in Newport Beach they were entitled to register and vote there, it was said.

Indictment of such voters was automatically barred by their appearance before the grand jury as witnesses, under a law governing election investigations, it is stated.

The Jones indictment, it was understood, was based upon evidence that Jones had deliberately voted in the place of James R. Jones in one precinct, while being registered himself in another precinct of the city. He is alleged to have signed the name of James R. Jones to the voting roster. The real James R. Jones, coming to vote later, was refused the privilege, it is said.

The charging of personating another voter, in violation of section 46 of the penal code, carries a penalty of from one to two years in prison. The forgery penalty is from one to 14 years.

The grand jury filed into Presiding Judge James L. Allen's court shortly before 11 a. m. today to file the true bills, which were presented to the court by Foreman F. P. Rossetti, of Garden Grove. The court ordered bench warrants issued for the arrest of the defendants, after which the grand jury was excused.

STATE READY TO TRY CASE JANUARY 2ND

nesses to be called by both sides might exceed 200. The prosecution intends to present about 125. No such definite figure was revealed by the defense.

Hauptmann's counsel was denied permission by Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck Jr. to take 15 witnesses to the Hunterdon county jail to talk with the defendant. It was understood that some of the 15 would be called as alibi witnesses in an attempt to prove that Hauptmann was in New York City the night of March 1, 1932, when the Lindbergh baby was taken from its crib in the home of the famous slier at Hopewell, N. J.

The state opened the way for such a surprise move by the defense when officials announced the new alibi law would not be used in the case. This act, if applied, compels the defense to disclose its witnesses five days prior to the trial. It was explained at the attorney general's office that the state knows all details of Hauptmann's alibi.

Uses Strategy
The prosecution's action was not without strategy, however. If names of the defense's alibi witnesses had been demanded Hauptmann's counsel could have demanded of them the list of witnesses on whom it relies to place the defendant at the scene of the crime.

State's attorneys admitted that they planned to question one of their star witnesses, Betty Gow, before she was called to the stand. Miss Gow, nursemaid to the slain baby, returned from Scotland Christmas day to appear at the trial.

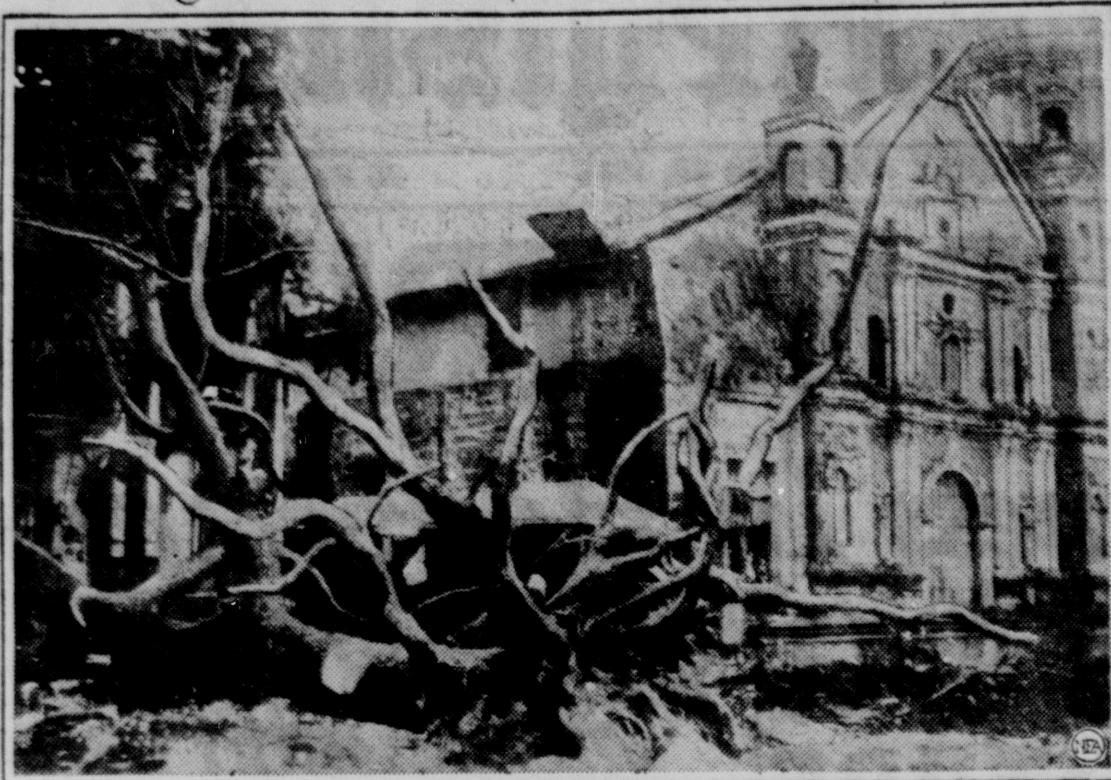

Meanwhile the furor created by the Hunterdon county sheriff's collecting money for press seats in the courtroom was waning. Sheriff John H. Curless explained that all "contributions" by newspaper men were voluntary and that all were assured space regardless of whether they paid anything.

The sheriff, in a lengthy statement, pointed out that the money so received went to cover expenses incurred in preparing adequate accommodations for the trial. He emphasized that the contributions "were in no sense a personal gift to me."

REPORT CAR STORAGE

Unless private garage owners or lessees report auto storage space rentals to the police department within 24 hours they are subject to a fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment, or both, declares a warning from the Automobile Club of Southern California. This state law does not apply when living quarters are also rented in the house, apartment or building to which the garage belongs.

Damage Is Millions in Six Philippine Typhoons

Evidence of the terrific velocity of the wind which swept the Philippines in an epidemic of typhoons is given in this scene, in which a giant acacia tree is shown uprooted in front of the ancient Binondo church in Manila. Six of the devastating storms have swept the islands since early September, causing damage of millions and a life loss exceeding 100.

PROF. ALBERT EINSTEIN SAYS UNIVERSE MAY BE INFINITE; UPSETS RELATIVITY THEORY

stein first advanced the theory that matter could be converted into energy under certain circumstances. This theory has been used to account for the energy of the sun and means that the sun decreases in mass by 4,000,000 tons per second.

To Make Address
His address will consist of a newer and simpler mathematical proof of the theorem, Dr. Einstein said. He explained that certain electromagnetic laws used in the original proof of the theorem had since been questioned and that science needed a proof which did not use them.

Asked whether it was possible that science might some day find a way to convert matter into energy on earth for practical purposes, he smiled and said that he thought the answer was "No."

"I am not a prophet in anything," he said, "not in science either. But I feel absolutely sure—well, nearly sure—that it will not be possible to convert matter into energy for practical purposes."

Bombard Atoms
This he explained was because of the difficulty of the method which involves bombarding atoms with sub-atom particles. While there are trillions of atoms, they are so small that direct hits are very few and it is only these which release energy.

"It is like shooting birds in the dark in a country where there are only a few birds," he said, leaning back in his chair and chuckling.

Discussing his most recent work, Dr. Einstein said that he was trying to devise a theory which would reconcile his own theory of relativity with the quantum theory. This latter theory, while usually not thought of as belonging to Einstein, really received its first adequate formulation from Dr. Einstein in 1905, the same year that he published his first paper on relativity.

Discussing the matter of the universe, Dr. Einstein explained that it was now impossible to be certain whether space was infinite or finite with very good chances that it was infinite.

He explained that this all depended upon the curvature of space and that at the present time, nobody could be certain whether the curvature was positive or negative.

If it is positive, the universe must be finite, he said. If it is negative, then the universe is infinite. He expressed the hope that new data about distant nebulae which will be revealed when the 200-inch telescope is completed, may help in the solution of this problem.

In conclusion, Dr. Einstein said: "If you try to solve a very deep scientific question, you must know that your probability of finding out anything is very small. You must work and not despair."

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—

(To the Editor of The Register.) Talk about a steady job during hard times, get this one. President Roosevelt sent a letter yesterday to the Federal Trade Commission asking them for a report. They been investigating six years. He told 'em "I don't want to hurry you boys, but I thought maby you had a few preliminary notes made that you could hand me. Of course I expect nothing thorough at this early date, just any little casual information that you might have picked up accidentally during your mere six years of holding the office."

They have just about been introduced to each other by now.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

1935 OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS IS OPTIMISTIC

look for the steel industry appears to be somewhat more favorable than it was a year ago.

Tom M. Girdler, chairman and president, Republic Steel Corporation—Since early in September, there has been a steady improvement in the steel industry and there are many indications that the trend of operations will continue upward in the new year.

Roy H. Faulkner, president, Auburn Automobile company—There is a better tone in business. Edward A. Filene, president, Wm. Filene's Sons Company—I am confident of general business improvement in 1935.

S. T. Blasdel, president, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway—We find a rather general note of optimism in our territory. Frederick H. Ecker, president, Metropolitan Life Insurance company—We can see many reassuring facts on the economic horizon.

P. W. Litchfield, president, Goodyear Tire & Rubber company—The picture for 1935 is highly uncertain. There are elements which can work out either for or against any general improvement. However, unless we come under the influence of subversive forces which can and should be avoided, there is a good chance that the new year will witness definite progress toward recovery.

BEAUMONT CUT-OFF

Work is progressing rapidly on the new Riverside-Beaumont cut-off according to the Riverside office of the National Automobile club. About one-third of the grading is completed at this time.

that such activities could be carried out lawfully either by majority or minority groups.

"The companies held that it was a question arising out of a law and that power to decide was vested in the federal courts.

"5. The law provides that the executive orders creating the National Board provided that its rulings and findings be binding only on the executive branch of the government and accordingly the power finally to construe and interpret any congressional act such as Section 7-A, lay exclusively with the federal courts.

"6. If the companies were to notify that they recognized the Amalgamated as the exclusive bargaining agency, they would, voluntarily and without the consent of those of their employees whose rights would be determined by such action, be depriving those employees of their property rights to bargain collectively, which right, they believe, and which right, we are advised, is vested in them by virtue of our code. This we cannot voluntarily do.

"7. Attention was invited to the calling of the 'Yellow Car' strike (so-called because of the color of the cars) last November 24 and the fact that the strike still was in progress, with all members of the Amalgamated who refused to strike expelled from the union.

"Accordingly there are no members of the Amalgamated now in the employ either of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation or the Los Angeles Motor Coach company.

"The records before the board show without contradiction that these companies have in good faith conducted collective bargaining proceedings with all their employees and have granted a majority of the requests made by such employees.

"We propose to continue so to bargain in good faith and sincerely believe that in so doing we have not been, and are not, guilty of any violation of the true intent and meaning of Section 7-A."

One copy of the letter was forwarded to Washington by air mail, and another by regular mail, both preceded by telegraphic notification that the reply was en route to the capital.

53 NOMINATED FOR SANTA ANITA DERBY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—(UP)—A field of 53 coming 3-year-olds has been nominated for the $15,000 added Santa Anita Derby Feb. 16, Webb Everett, racing secretary at Santa Anita park, announced today.

The entries which will reach the 5-year-old class Jan. 1, include three representatives of the Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney stables which produced a winner for the $5000 Christmas Day stakes—High Glee, Rough Diamond, Pantoufle and Pundit were nominated for the richer event.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stables have entered Gillie and Peradventure, a pair of 2-year-olds who have performed well this year. Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Brookmeade stable named World Series and Shining Light, stablemates of Cavaicade, 1934 champion.

Four youngsters are entered from the Milky Way farms. They are Sunny Gallant, Whiskoloe, Gallacley and Gallerne. Polish Beau will represent the Corsicano stable and Bluebeard will carry the colors of William R. Coe. These two horses staged a close duel in the Holly Wreath handicap Tuesday with Polish Beau winning.

BOULDER DAM TRIP OF GREAT INTEREST

Spectacular phases of construction on Boulder Dam are nearing completion and motorists contemplating a trip to view the great project should do so this season, advises the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Work on the dam is expected to terminate by next May.

Many motorists are enjoying a novel and attractive tour replete with interest by combining Death Valley and Boulder Dam as the major features of their itinerary. It is about eight miles from Boulder City to the dam, over paved highway. The best view of operations at the dam is secured from Lookout Point, where virtually the entire work lies spread before the spectator.

Leaving the dam, the motorist who circles around via Death Valley continues northwesterly on the Batty road. His map will indicate two routes to Death Valley Junction and Furnace Creek, and return highways down Death Valley and back to Baker, via Death Valley Junction to Baker, or via Townes Pass to Lone Pine.

ORANGE COUNTY SERA PROJECTS ARE APPROVED

creek between Main street and the east city limits.

The city park project is tied in with the similar projects operated by the county and by the city of Orange. A total of $40,824 has been appropriated by SERA for work relief labor on the Santa Ana park project, which the city has augmented by $5181 for materials and supervision. City Engineer J. L. McBride will supervise the work.

A project for the execution of certain technical work for the Fullerton Union High school and junior college to cover landscaping, location of buildings, a mechanical plant, etc., for a new junior college plant, E. A. Ames will supervise the work. Nineteen persons will be employed and SERA has appropriated $5400 for work relief labor.

A county-wide sign painting project to furnish signs for the administrative office and other places in SERA was approved. Terrence Halloran, county SERA director, will supervise the work which he is sponsoring. Two persons will be employed as sign painters and $900 has been appropriated for work relief labor.

Improvement of Newport Harbor Union High school grounds was provided for in another project approved. Grading, concrete work, fencing, painting, carpenter work, planting new shrubbery and other improvements will be made. E. J. Rollins will supervise the work. Thirty-nine persons will be employed and SERA has appropriated $9781 for work relief labor.

Persons on relief or in need of relief will earn their full budgetary requirements on these projects. Because of the stagger system of labor employed on SERA projects necessitated by having the workers earn only their budgetary deficiencies, a total of 1005 workers can be absorbed on these projects.

CONSIDER PRORATE PLAN FOR AVOCADOS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—Calavo growers of California are asking the State Prorate Commission and the University of California to immediately conduct a survey and investigation to determine if prorate distribution of the entire crop would be beneficial or economically feasible to the entire industry. The action, taken at the Exchange's recent December board meeting, was due to the considerable agitation now evident among growers for a prorate. These growers believe that prorate distribution would more efficiently coordinate all supplies with demand, and would therefore benefit both consumer and growers.

Market prices on this coast have been reported to be completely demoralized now for some time, according to a communication to the Calavo board from E. T. Brink, chairman of the Vista Calavo growers' committee. Brink urged the prorate action strongly, indicating that the present market situation is due to the lack of sufficient control over the entire crop to prevent the market glut and price-cutting, as caused by a small minority.

Prospects of continued rainfall today caused residents of Orange county to wonder whether or not history will repeat itself and if 1935 is to be ushered in with a downpour of rain as it was last year.

The United States Weather Bureau predicted continued showers for tonight and tomorrow, but the prognostications did not extend far enough into the future to include New Year's.

It started raining on December 31 last year, the downpour amounting to 2.47 inches on that single day. The precipitation continued through New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, bringing 2.08 inches more. The rain tapered off on January 2 with .06 inches falling, but the total for the three days amounted to 4.61 inches.

The rainfall so far this year has shattered all previous records for amount of precipitation this early in the rainy season. Many communities already have passed the total of last year and others are close to the total. The last rain last year came on June 18.

Measurements taken early this morning showed that Santa Ana received .16 inches during the 24 hour period ending this morning, bringing the seasonal total up to 8.15 inches as compared with but 2.54 at this time last year.

With .56 inches of rain for the 24 hours ending this morning, San Clemente received more rain during the storm than any other community. Buena Park was second with .40 inches. Only a trace fell at Irvine.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(UP)—A steady rain, moving from the north last night, added .52 of an inch of rain to the season total in Los Angeles.

As early showers settled into a steady downpour last night, fears were aroused for the safety of residents in flood danger areas, but a dry earth soaked up the water and the run-off was light.

Considerable mud and debris was washed down on the streets in foothill areas, but conditions were not a serious threat. Water from a wash a quarter of a mile north of the Oakmont Country club washed out pavement on La Cresenta avenue. The road was closed, but no other damage was reported.

The forecast was for continued rain tonight and tomorrow. No forecast was issued for New Year's Day but weather bureau officials said unofficially they looked for the storm to pass.

Gets Year In Jail On Burglary Count

Augustine Ramirez, 20, of Stanton, was granted probation for five years in conjunction with a burglary charge, but must spend one year in the county jail as a condition. Superior Judge James L. Allen ordered today after hearing the youth's application for probation. Ramirez had pleaded guilty to entering the garage of G. H. Kemp at Huntington Beach December 8.

Three high voltage wires, carrying 4000 volts each, were broken shortly before 2 a. m. today when rain-soaked branches of a palm tree fell across the wires at Flower and Highland streets. Southwestern Edison company employees were called to repair the damage. New connections were made in a short time.

These children of needy families received toys, candy and other gifts at the big Christmas celebration, made possible by the generous assistance of persons and firms who contributed through The Register and in Salvation Army kettles. This event climaxed the Christmas activities of the Salvation Army, which included distribution of 407 baskets of food to needy families on Christmas day, also financed in the same way.

FEDERAL REAL ESTATE LOANS IN COUNTY TOTAL $6,151,117

One of the outstanding features of the present year in real estate has been the activity of governmental loan agencies, which have loaned $6,151,117.27 in Orange county during the first 11 months of the year, according to the Reliance office, Security Title Insurance and Guarantee company.

During the 11 months, a total of 883 Home Owners Loan corporation loans were made, aggregating $2,064,355.79, the report showed. Sixty-three Federal Land bank loans amounted to $411,311.48; 165 Land Bank commissioner loans brought in $562,350 and 278 combination Land Bank and Land Bank commissioner loans amounted to $3,113,100.

COURT DISMISSES PERJURY CHARGE

Frank Aguayo, charged with perjury following the superior court trial of Kenneth L. Ward, on an assault charge, was released in the Santa Ana Justice court yesterday at the end of his preliminary hearing.

It was contended by the district attorney's office that Aguayo gave conflicting testimony during Ward's preliminary hearing and the superior court trial. At the end of the hearing yesterday, Defense Attorney A. E. Koepsel moved for dismissal on grounds of lack of evidence and the motion was granted by Justice Kenneth E. Morrison.

The jury in the Ward case disagreed after voting 11 to 1 for acquittal.

Policy Holders Insurance Firm Sued Here Again

Alleged refusal of the insurance company to pay $3000 insurance on the life of Jodie T. Hobbs, of Fullerton, who died last April 7, led today to the filing of a suit in superior court by the widow, Mrs. Grace E. Hobbs, to collect that amount from The Policy Holders Life Insurance Association of Los Angeles.

Two policies of $1500 each were issued to Hobbs by the defendant company February 14, 1931, the widow alleges. At the time of his death, Hobbs was in good standing as a member of insurance association, a mutual concern, she states, and on May 2, this year, she filed proof of her husband's death with the defendant company. However, on June 20, the company notified her that the claim was refused, she stated.

Her suit is the third filed against the same insurance concern in Orange county courts during recent years, court records show.

GIFTS GIVEN CHILDREN AT YULE PARTY

Climaxing the Christmas effort of the Salvation Army, 500 eager children whooped and shouted their joy when they were entertained at a big Christmas tree program and party by the Salvation Army yesterday afternoon.

Funds which made possible the happiness of these hundreds of children, were obtained through the generous cooperation of residents and firms who contributed to The Register Salvation Army Christmas cheer fund and through donations in the Salvation Army kettles in the streets.

Anyone who gave some money to the cause, would have been more than repaid to see how joyful were these children, many of them but tiny tots, as they gathered around Santa Claus and clasped their cherished gifts in their arms. Not only did they get toys and other gifts, but they were given candy, nuts and apples.

A regular Christmas program, put on by the children under the direction of Mrs. C. W. Gallipo, wife of Capt. C. W. Gallipo, included a play, "King's Birthday," recitations and songs, and lusty group singing.

Wednesday afternoon a Christmas tree program for 110 children was staged by the Salvation Army, making a total of 610 children made happy through the effort.

This year 407 baskets filled with materials for a real Christmas dinner, were distributed, as compared with 299 last year, according to Captain Gallipo. Tuesday afternoon more than 50 homeless men were given a real Christmas dinner at the Army shelter.

Let of a fiesta in a Portuguese fishing village, with music by Rosado. Composed originally for the Otero troupe in Seille, it has since gained favor in Madrid and Mexico City. While playing in the latter city, Miss Kinch added it to her repertoire.

The score of "Thais," suggested by the legend of Thais, is by Galea. Frank Pursell's chorus of 24 singers is an added feature. Costumes are by Ruegg, Laguna Beach artist.

In addition to the three ballets Myra Kinch will appear in new solo dances as well as request numbers from her previous concerts.

BEACH BUSINESS MAN DROWNS IN HOTEL BATHTUB

John Nicholson Bramwell, 52, well known Balboa merchant, drowned in the Clark hotel, Los Angeles, while taking a bath Wednesday night, it was learned today when the body was returned here for burial.

According to reports, Bramwell was taking a bath when he apparently suffered a heart attack. It was assumed by the Los Angeles coroner's office that he became unconscious because of the heart attack, slid down into the water and drowned. An inquest revealed that the lungs were filled with water, so death was attributed directly to drowning.

Bramwell had gone to Los Angeles to consult a doctor whom he had been visiting, and had been in the city for two days when he died. He had telephoned relatives in Balboa the day before he died, saying he planned to be home the next day.

Born in England, the Balboa merchant had been engaged in business in Balboa for the past 11 years. He was a dealer in antiques. His home at Balboa was at 216 1/2 Lindo street. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. A. J. Twist, of Balboa.

Strictly private funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the chapel of the Harrell and Brown funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, with the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Episcopal, Santa Ana, officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

$2500 BAIL SET IN BURGLARY CASE

Held under $2500 bail each, Edward W. Pruitt and Lawrence Brown are in the county jail awaiting their preliminary hearings on burglary charges on January 2, following their arraignment in the Santa Ana Justice court yesterday.

The youths were arrested by police with allegedly stolen clothing and jewelry in their possession. The complaint was signed by W. S. Barnes, 204 West Seventeenth street, who identified two suits and shirts taken from the men as having been stolen from his home Sunday.

Pruitt gave an alias when booked at the jail and said his name was Edward Bush, according to police.

WORLD PEACE PROBLEMS DISCUSSED BY EDUCATOR AT JOINT CLUB MEETING

Proceeding the address, Judge Kenneth Morrison, president of the Lions club, conducted a session honoring the members of the junior college and high school football teams, and the participating organizations.

Club presidents introduced and the organizations they represented were Dr. O. Scott McFarland, Rotary club; Theo Winbiger and Loren Moore, old and new presidents of Kiwanis club; Dr. Lawrence Cameron, 20-30 club; Mrs. Rose Walker, Business and Professional Women's club; Ed Hall, Breakfast club; John Dunlap, Trojan Men's club; Mrs. LeRoy Burns, Trojan Women's club; and Franklin West, Stanford club.

Honor Players
Coach Bill Foote introduced Assistant Coach Reese Greene and members of his high school team and the jaycee players were introduced by Assistant Coach Blanchard Beatty. Since Coach Bill Cook is vacationing out of the city, Others introduced included School Superintendent Frank Henderson, Principal D. K. Hammond, County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson, M. B. Youel of the board of education and his son, Curtis Youel.

Dr. von Klein Smid, who was introduced by Dunlap, dwelt at length on conditions in the Orient as an example of how nations fail to understand each other. He explained that Americans were unable to realize that Japan has always believed that its rulers are descendants of God, which makes all their actions and policies of divine origin. The Japanese are thus unafraid of world criticism and defy all civilized countries, the educator pointed out.

"Some say that war is necessary and it is true that each generation has had its war in history," the Trojan president said. "Others of us are more hopeful and feel that through intensive education and the awakening of a moral and spiritual force against war, peace can be fostered."

"None of the young people in school today have lived in an era of peace, prosperity or happiness. The rumblings of world conflict are everywhere about us. European nations are distrustful of each other and prepared for trouble. It is a grave problem that confronts the world and requires the utmost concern of those who would promote international relations and peace."

The speaker flayed the hypocrisy of nations in having disarmament and other conferences but settling the issues involved months previously through "conversations" and alliances. He stated that each nation sets up its rules of diplomacy and will not consider any others, which is paramount to trying to play golf or football with each player making his own rules.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Brien of Los Angeles, passengers on the stage, were reported out of danger, as were other stage passengers and drivers who were injured.

REPORT URGES SERA DRIVE ON BLACK SPIDERS

FULLERTON, Dec. 28.—A new program for SERA labor employment was suggested at the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday noon at Hughes cafe when a report was read that had been compiled by Alvin Ford, drawing attention to need of exterminating black widow spiders, termites and rats.

In his report, Ford drew attention to the evident menace of the black widow spider, the bite of which is considered more dangerous, he said than that of a rattlesnake; the evidence that they are leaving the hills, where their natural enemies are located, and are harboring in garages and houses. He said a female spider produces 240,000 young a year. His report included the mention of the menace of rats and termites.

The directors requested Harry May, secretary, to write Governor or Merriam asking that he refuse to reappoint Julian H. Alco, to the prison board. It was asserted that the Alco bill, sponsored by the member of the prison board whose term is expiring, is not what it seems, a means of protecting citizens.

A revised list of board candidates was presented, since some of those named after the primary vote was brought in Monday, were found to be disqualified because of certain rulings of the chamber. The 15 candidates are Colum Baker, Orin Clark, Ed Beasley, Hubert Dawson, Ray E. Green, Phil Haber, Coy Long, Dan O'Hanlon, Max Orkin, Henry Parry, J. H. Roberts, E. W. Robinson, Felix Stein, Robert Strain and A. R. Volk. Ballots with the 15 names on them were mailed last night. Those receiving the highest number of votes will be elected.

Jones gave his occupation as an entertainer and police were doubtful. While awaiting transportation to "dat ole jailhouse" Jones volunteered to entertain the officers. After a 10-minute show that included singing, dancing and whistling, Jones revealed that for 25 years he was on leading vaudeville circuits of the nation. For several years he was a headliner. He also had traveled with minstrel shows and other entertainment groups.

Osborne Seeks $51,000 From Club Directors

Seeking damages of $51,000 for the malicious prosecution, arrest and imprisonment of his son, George Osborne, Caltech student, Herbert Osborne of Fullerton has filed suit in the San Bernardino superior court against directors of the Weesha Country club, of which he is one of 12 members.

Last week, Osborne filed suit for $18,000 against all the members but the new action arose from the arrest of his son. Those named in the second suit were served papers yesterday from San Bernardino, and are Harry H. Hale, C. C. Wagner and William Berkentock of Placentia, S. C. Hartman and G. W. Sandilands of Anaheim, and Chris Nelson, club caretaker.

The club comprises 160 acres of choice mountain land near San Bernardino and includes the summer homes of 12 families. Osborne, a Fullerton engineer, alleges that on July 27, the other members conspired to arrest and imprison his son and that Berkentock signed the complaint against him. He further alleges that the members were conspiring to force him to abandon his right to the club by shutting off the water to his property.

Osborne states that the charges against his son were dismissed by the district attorney of San Bernardino county for insufficient evidence.

ORDER SLAYER HELD IN JAIL WITHOUT BAIL

Facing a term in San Quentin prison, Ivan Apple, of Huntington Beach, self-confessed slayer Wednesday of his brother Roscoe, was arraigned in the Huntington Beach city court today on murder charges and attended the inquest this afternoon.

Judge Charles Patton set his preliminary hearing for tomorrow at 10 a. m. and ordered him held in the county jail without bail. It is anticipated that his age will be cited as cause for transferring the case to the juvenile courts, but it is just as likely that Apple will then be remanded back to the regular courts, according to the district attorney's office.

Because the youth is so nearly 18 years of age, and the crime is murder, juvenile authorities may exercise their privilege and refuse to try the case, it is reported. It will be impossible to inflict the death penalty upon a minor but it may be possible to commit him, if convicted, to either San Quentin prison or the Preston School of Industry at Lone.

The youth gave himself up to police Wednesday afternoon after admitting he shot his brother with a shotgun following a violent quarrel at their home at 2397 Florida avenue. Roscoe, 26, died almost instantly from the charge, which entered his abdomen below the heart.

All day long, yesterday, jail attendants awaited the visit to the jail of Ivan's family, who were called from a visit in Ventura after the fatal shooting. It was finally learned that the youth, still defiant and unwilling to reveal the true motive for the killing, had indicated that he would not talk to his parents even if they came to the jail.

Grief stricken by the death of one son and the apparent enmity of another, the family is staying in Long Beach with relatives and have returned to the house of tragedy only to care for some poultry and remove some personal effects. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Apple, sister Grace, 12 and brother Edgar, 18, were expected to see Ivan for the first time since the shooting at the inquest today at the Dixon mortuary.

A secret motive that precipitated the shooting was intimated yesterday when a Register reporter quizzed Ivan in his jail cell, the only occasion that he has been questioned except by district attorney's officers and Huntington Beach police. He steadfastly refused to tell what caused him to grab the shotgun and fire point blank at his brother, except that they had been quarreling for a long time.

Million Pounds Of Fuerte Type Avocados Sold

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—Due to the remarkable success of the national marketing program of the Calavo Growers of California, 14 per cent of the new season's total estimated crop of Fuertes has already been marketed, compared with 13 per cent by the same time a year ago. It was also reported at the recent December meeting of the growers' marketing cooperative that 1,336,000 pounds of Fuertes have been marketed so far this season, compared with but 160,000 pounds a year ago. The present season's total estimated crop of all varieties is expected to be nearly five times larger than that of last season.

Sales of Calavos in the various markets of the nation have increased from four to 20 times over those of a year ago.

Sixty-four additional Southern California growers have joined the Calavo Growers of California since October 1, having a total of 14,212 trees and an estimated crop of 223,600 pounds of fruit. Growers now joining are signing for two years' membership. The San Diego county Calavo packinghouse, located at Vista, shipped its first carload of Calavos to the east last week. Most of its packout has been going by carload so far to Pacific coast markets.

TUSTIN SERVICE STATIONS ROBBED

Two service stations in Tustin were burglarized last night, with loot totaling $30 being taken from the O. A. Parks station at First and Tustin streets and a pair of sun goggles from the station of George Baughn, R. D. 2, Box 312, Santa Ana, on Red Hill road.

Both stations were entered after a glass door had been broken, according to investigating sheriff's officers. At the Parks station and adjoining store, $15 was taken from the grocery and $15 from the station, only 20 cents of which was stolen from the cash register. Merchandise and other money in the station was not touched.

The sun goggles, valued at 65 cents, were stolen and an empty cash drawer was torn open in the Baughn station. Merchandise was untouched except for a package of gumdrops, from which the thief had taken one bite and thrown it on the counter.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car.

1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.

2. New location of seats, with rear seat moved forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.

3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the spring-base to 123 inches.

The result is Center-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its ease of handling. You can take curves with greater safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive.

INTRODUCED TOMORROW

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People

New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal. A new easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements—including crankcase ventilation, cast alloy steel crankshaft and copper-lead floating connecting-rod bearings—but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 85 horsepower and capable of 80 miles an hour.

Other 1935 Ford features are Safety Glass throughout in all body types at no extra cost. New welded all-steel bodies. New wider rear doors. (Front doors hinged forward.) New lower double-channel X-type frame. (Makes it easier to get in and out of the car.)

Rich, modern body colors, including a new gun-metal finish of striking beauty on De Luxe body types. Luxurious new upholstery and appointments.

New, wider pillowed seats and softer seat cushions. (Front seats are 4 to 5 1/2 inches wider.) Clear-Vision Ventilation, with adjustable cowl ventilator and a windshield that opens. Combination fuel and oil gage and heat indicator on new.

modern instrument board of the De Luxe body types.

The spring leaves are tapered for quiet as well as flexibility. Larger tires have a new, wider tread, specially designed for safety and comfort. Bodies are insulated for quiet and temperature.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

OUT-TRAPPED TRAPPER
KERNVILLE, Cal.—(UP)—Misled by the very cleverness of the plot, wild animals fell prey to the amateur experiments of Miss Lila Aldrich of Los Angeles who tried her luck at trapping while spending a week-end at a resort near here. She set numerous traps around the resort, placing them in the open, uncovered. Her catch included four foxes, one lynx and two coyotes and left the record of experienced trappers far behind.

OLD FIREARMS OF OLIVE MAN ARE DISPLAYED

ORANGE, Dec. 28.—John Ragan, 108 West Chapman avenue, has an interesting collection of guns on display in the windows of his office. The guns are the property of Lee McClelland of Olive. One of the firearms in the collection is a repeating pistol patented February 14, 1854, the weapon proving impractical because the explosive, placed inside the bullet, had no force. It is about 18 inches long. The pistol, manufactured by the Volcanic Arms company, was the forerunner of the Henry, and later the Winchester rifles, Ragan states. The bullet was formed like a rocket, the powder and fulminate of mercury being placed in the rear of the bullet.

The Volcanic Arms company, Ragan says, was sold to the Henry Rifle company which later became the Winchester Rifle company. One of the guns in the window is one of the first models made by the latter firm. It has an engraved barrel, with a 44-caliber rim. A few of these were used in the Civil war, it is said. Other guns shown were made between 1860 and 1866.

Three Lapsful Of Dionne Babies And What Wonders Tots See After Santa's Visit

Five little stockings, all in a row! It still seems a miracle to Mama Dionne, as she gazes at them, while little Emelie's eyes stray away from the display.

There never was a Christmas like this one at the Dionne home! Just see the multitude of gifts that Santa showered from his bulging pack for the quintuplets. Viewed by Nurse Yvonne Leroux, left, Mama Dionne, and Nurse Louise De Kiriline, as they hold the wondering tots at their first Yuletide celebration.

Who else would be Santa but Dr. Dafee? He's getting the thrill of a useful lifetime in playing the jolly Saint role, with his pack overflowing with toys.

Marie can't quite decide whether she should be glad or afraid as she fixes an intent gaze on the dusky doll that Santa Dafee is holding for her inspection.

Papa and Mama Dionne came in for their share of the Christmas fun and here they are happily watching Yvonne as she looks wonderingly at one of her many gifts.

A cunning little playmate is this Christmas doll that has come to Annette, who looks approvingly at it as Nurse De Kiriline smilingly observes her reaction.

It's not one of those growly bears, but a pleasant little cub that'll be lots of fun to play with, Daddy Dionne is assuring Cecile, who's just a little in doubt.

DECISION ON ORANGE P. O. JOB EXPECTED

Recommendation for appointment of a postmaster at Orange was announced as the special business to come before a meeting of the Orange County Democratic Central committee at 7:30 this evening, in the courtroom of City Judge J. G. Mitchell, of Santa Ana, who is chairman of the committee.

The committee, it is understood, will recommend a successor to Mrs. Vera Wettlin, at present serving as postmistress under a temporary appointment, made last year. A selection will be made, it is said, from among three eligibles who passed civil service requirements in a recent examination. These are V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce; Joe Peterson, recently a candidate for the state assembly; and Frank Thompson, former postmaster at Garden Grove.

The central committee, it was stated, was notified a week ago to forward a recommendation, or an appointment would be made without it.

Christmas Fails To Bring Peace To One Household

Christmas brought no peace to the household of Al and Consuela Herrera, but saw, instead, the crash of their marriage, the wife revealed today, in filing suit in superior court for divorce.

Their wedlock had been brief but unhappy. Mrs. Herrera's complaint indicated, charging that her husband used filthy language toward her, and frequently struck her. They married in Santa Ana May 28, 1933, and separated on Christmas day this year, after Herrera allegedly had subjected his wife to violence, while forcing her into an automobile.

She asked custody of their infant daughter, Olive, six months old; also costs and attorney fees, and a restraining order to prevent her husband from molesting her. Attorneys Burke and Colwell represent her.

Court Notes

The late Charles Chandler Oakes, of Santa Ana, who died December 4, left an estate valued at $27,000, and with an annual income of $1800 to his widow, Mrs. Abbie Burton Oakes, 1825 North Ross street, except for a bequest of $1000 to a daughter, Mary Esther Oakes. This was shown today when the will was filed in superior court for probate by Attorneys West and McKinney, representing Mrs. Oakes.

Donald A. Love has filed suit in superior court through Attorney Charles D. Swanner, of Santa Ana, asking annulment of his marriage to Lillian Irene Love, which took place March 22, 1920, in Santa Barbara. The defendant already was married to another man at the time, the complaint states.

Letters of administration over the $5000 estate left by the late Dr. J. Franc Haight, Costa Mesa woman, who died December 2 in Coshocton, Ohio, were asked today in a superior court petition filed by a cousin, James Neyland, of Los Angeles. The heirs are two brothers of Dr. Haight, Thad W. Haight, 80, and Dr. Douglas Haight, 75, both of Coshocton.

Mrs. Mary L. Lyons has been granted a decree of divorce from John R. Lyons, on grounds of cruelty, which the wife said had extended over the last five years. They were married June 14, 1912, at Charleston, Ill., and separated April 1, this year. Superior Judge James L. Allen heard the case.

Henry W. Stanley and Kathryn Stanley have brought suit in superior court against Santa Fe Mercantile company, to quiet title to acreage near Olive.

John K. Kewish was frequently drunk and boasted of his conquests of other women, his wife, Mrs. Mildred I. Kewish, alleged in her divorce suit, on file today in superior court. The couple wed at Corona September 15, 1929, and separated September 6, this year. They have a son, aged 2.

THE TINYMITES

The penguin seemed chock full of fun, 'cause now and then he'd start to run away from all the Tinies, and their hitching would be stopped.

Wee Goldy said, "I've never heard of putting harness on a bird. No wonder he objects. I guess our ride plans must be dropped."

"Oh, no," said Jack Frost. "Just watch me. Sometimes I'm strict as I can be. I'll make that funny penguin do exactly as I say."

Then to the crazy bird he cried, "Come here! The Tinies want a ride. You've carried on enough, now, and it's time to stop your play."

Much to the Tinymites' surprise the penguin, right before their eyes, walked right up to the dandy sled and then stood very still.

Of Jack just said, "Now, that's all right. Just stand there till I'm depending on you to give all these tots a thrill."

At last the harness was in place. "Gee, I just hope the bird don't race," said Doty. "I am sure that I'd fall off into the snow." "Oh, stop your fretting," Scouty cried. "We'll have no bad luck on this ride. Our weight, alone, I'm positive, will make the bird go slow."

In just a moment Jack Frost roared, "All right, you Tinies, hop aboard! The bird knows where to take you, and you'll get there safe and sound."

"Just hang on to each other and the trip you'll have will be just grand. I wish that I could join you, and go skimming 'cross the ground."

"but, I'll stay here. There's work to do, and just as soon as I am through I'm going to take a nice long snooze. I am a sleepy gent."

"Well, thank you for all that you have done," cried Goldy. "We've had lots of fun." And then we Scouty yelled, "Giddap," and off the Tinies went.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

HOPES
Political mechanicians who gauge public opinion for the alert New Deal have not been very well satisfied with the way the last few moves have gone over.

You will never hear it from them directly, but it is true that the reaction to the proposal for limiting war profits was just so-so. It was a one-day sensation which failed to keep public interest sustained.

The thrust toward building a public power plan in New York was good, but not exactly electrifying.

The handling of the White Sulphur Springs business conference program was badly botched by everyone who touched it. That really is the reason why the stock market has been shrinking. Marketers are frankly wondering if the New Dealers have been softening their again with all the autumn talk about helping business.

For these reasons, the mechanicians are laying great hopes on the president's forthcoming message to congress. They say President Roosevelt will pack a lot of meat in it. Some of it may be sharp to the business taste (budget, expenditures, social legislation), but generally it will be nutritious, and it will be fed in such a way as to make it nutritious—which is important.

RESCUE
The most daring rescue of the holiday season was effected when Chairman Eccles of Federal Reserve was saved from engaging in a controversy with Senator Glass. Mr. Eccles was writing a reply to Senator Glass on Christmas eve. News men were waiting eagerly. Word came that Mr. Eccles had it half written. Expectancy increased. The body of Mr. Eccles could be seen visionally drifting closer and closer to the Virginia buzz-saw. Then came the announcement that Mr. Eccles would make no formal reply.

What happened was that certain influential insiders called Mr. Eccles on the telephone in the nick of time. They told him that people who have lived in Washington longer than Mr. Eccles unanimously agree that the easiest way to spoil a budding reserve board career is to get in an argument with cactus-tongued Carter.

MISTAKE
Glass usually knows whom he is spanking before he puts out his paddle, but this time he hit the wrong fellow.

The root of the trouble was that the Federal Reserve Board handled its press release inefficiently when it announced a cut from 3 to 2-1/2 per cent in bank interest rates on deposits. It linked the legitimate action with a doubtful one by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation. The FRB had ample authority to order the cut by its own members, but the FDIC probably over-stepped itself when it tried to extend the order to banks outside the Deposit Insurance corporation.

The question is purely technical. The FDIC obtained an opinion from legal counsel that its order was legal, although laymen may not understand how it could be.

Glass knew all that. He merely used the unimportant opportunity for an indirect shot at the way the administration has centralized banking under the FRB and FDIC. He will be shooting at that off and on from now on.

PERSONAL
Mr. Roosevelt had an experience at Warm Springs some years ago which may furnish an explanation why he is eager to reduce interest rates. At least the memory of the experience is vivid in his mind. He related it recently to a friend.

A Negro farmer near the President's Georgia farm approached him and asked for a loan of $200. The Negro said he needed the money to buy a mule team, seeds and farm implements. He contended that the bank levied such charges on him that the interest would amount to 12 per cent.

After investigating, Mr. Roosevelt advanced the loan at 4 per cent. It was all repaid.

NOTES
Governor Eccles takes his job so seriously that he has made a habit of studying each night for two hours on credit, finance, banking, taxation, no matter what time he gets home.

Treasurer Secretary and Mrs. Morgenthau never fly in the same plane.

largely to amortization requirements—has put them on a thankless spot. Their mission being to save homes they obviously can't go in for foreclosures. Their only alternative is to hold the bag financially for a growing number of delinquent properties. It's a case of having a panther by the tail and not being able to let go. This was an important factor in the curtailment of H.O.L.C. activities.

The present situation leaves nobody happy. Hard-pressed home owners find the relief they were supposed to get illusory. In some cases inefficient administration of local agencies has actually permitted foreclosure of theoretically protected parties for state or municipal taxes. The banks are not interested in taking over—and the government is stuck for heavy losses that may never be repaid.

BANKS
The final answer to this involved riddle isn't yet in sight. There are signs that home owner sentiment is gradually organizing to press for a more effective easing of their burdens. Some informed sources believe the government will eventually be forced to go much further into the field of refinancing private mortgages—but not on any 5 per cent plus amortization basis. There are experts who figure the interest rate must be carved to 2 1/2 per cent and at least 40 years allowed for retirement of principal—if the administration is in earnest about saving homes. Distressed debtors find the New York state mortgage moratorium is a rather painful poke on them. They can't be foreclosed for non-payment of principal but they can be—and are—for default of interest and taxes. That's about as much help to the average property owner in trouble as a pearl tress to a guinea pig. The state legislature will hear plenty about this at its next session. Banking interests will vehemently oppose further concessions. Many of them have done rather well on the present basis.

RULES
The securities and exchange commission's new rules for corporate registration will probably have a curious by-product. Insiders look for a decided jump in the number of companies listed on the New York stock exchange.

Hitherto a good many medium-sized corporations have shunned the Big Board in favor of smaller exchanges whose listing requirements were less onerous. This factor no longer operates because regulations will be uniform for all security markets—and the prestige of acceptance by the Daddy of all exchanges will be an attractive lure.

Experts agree that the commission has definitely succeeded in protecting the investing public in one important respect. The publicity spotlight on the stockholders and dealings of corporate officers and directors is rated the best possible barrier to manipulations based on inside knowledge of a company's affairs. Big interests will find it hard to cash in at the public's expense when they have to perform in a goldfish bowl.

COTTON
Now that cotton farmers have approved the Bankhead bill, New York observers are watching closely to see which way the AAA will jump. Whatever it does will probably bring howls of protest from the farmers. It's supposed to help. The informed say that far more crop restrictions will be necessary if present prices are maintained. Neither rigid quotas nor falling prices are likely to make a hit in the south—but those seem to be the alternatives.

It's understood the AAA has no yen whatever to continue 12 cent warehouse loans which have kept things from falling apart this year. It will have a little matter of seven million bales to liquidate as it is—and no more market for them than there is for icicles in Alaska. This type of first aid is due to be abandoned shortly.

STEEL
Statistics indicate that Senator Borah and others who criticized the steel code for giving the big companies all the breaks were shooting at the wrong target. U. S. Steel has 40 per cent of the industry's production capacity but is getting less than 35 per cent of the current business.

The independents have also made a better relative showing on earnings since the code went into effect. This is partly due to the fact that they go in more for the lighter products which have been in demand. Big Steel stands to gain more than its rivals when the market for heavy stuff arrives.

CIRCLES
Neville Chamberlain's statement that the British can't stabilize the pound while the dollar and franc are out of balance draws banking comment that England France and the U. S. are chasing each other in circles. France claims she can't enter into an agreement until the dollar and pound are set and we can't while the pound is footloose and the franc tied to a deflationary standard. Some one has to hop off the merry-go-round before the necessary readjustments can be made. Inside betting is that we'll be the ones to do it—perhaps by reviving the embargo on gold—unless the thread that holds France to gold breaks pretty soon.

PLAIN
The hullabaloo about allowing office partners of stock exchange firms to serve as exchange government leaver informed observers cold. Comment: If that's usually the office partners who put up the capital and thereby have authority to tell floor partners what to do. "Don't worry about those fellows having no vote. Money talks just as plain off the record as on."

SIDELIGHTS
Quite a few Christmas bonuses were handed out in Wall Street this year despite the hard times talk....But they weren't advertised as on former occasions....New York banks are strengthening their ties with country correspondents by helping them solve their investment problems on demand.

NEGRO EVANGELIST TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Marshall Keeble, nationally known colored evangelist, will appear this evening at the Southside Church of Christ in a special service preparatory to a series of tent meetings that he will conduct in Santa Ana late next month, it was announced today.

Tonight's service will be held in the church auditorium at Fairview and Birch streets, Evangelist Keeble delivering the sermon.

"Tonight's service is open to all races," said an announcement of the service. "Great crowds of both white and colored folk greet Evangelist Keeble wherever he goes, because of his plain, forceful teaching and entertaining manner."

GAS STATION OPERATOR IS HOLDUP VICTIM

Accosted at his garage door after driving home from work, A. T. Pryor, 906 Orange avenue and operator at the Shell Service station at First and Bush streets, was held up and robbed of about $100 last night at 9 o'clock, he reported to police.

Pryor said he had driven home with the service station receipts in a cloth bag and after driving in the garage, got out to close the doors. In the darkness, a man ordered him to stand still and hand over the money bag. Unable to do other wise, Pryor said he gave the man the money and saw him run to the street and disappear in the darkness. He could not be sure whether the man escaped in a car or not.

Following the robbery, Mrs. Pryor remembered that earlier in the evening, she had heard a car drive up in front of the house and a horn honk twice. It is thought possible that this might have been a confederate working with the thief, according to police reports.

The $100 in loot consisted mostly of bills with about $5 in silver.

HIGHWAY OFFICER HERO OF PICTURE

Thrilling motorcycle races, relentless pursuit of criminals and all the adventure of the life of a highway patrol officer are mirrored in "Hell Bent for Love" with Tim McCoy in the leading role, which opens at Walker's State theater today.

In this film, with Lillian Bond, Vincent Sherman and Bradley Page in the supporting cast, he will be seen as an officer who is "framed" by a criminal and who turns from running down speeders to combatting the underworld.

Other subjects on the program are "Mickey's Steam Roller," a cartoon; a news reel; a chapter of "The Vanishing Shadow," and "Mickey's Covered Wagon," a comedy.

The Walker's Kiddies club meets at 1 p. m. Saturday.

A substance having all the desirable properties of bakelite, an American product, has been produced from coal at a low cost by German scientists.

DAMAGE SUIT FOR $35,000 IS FILED

Injuries suffered by two women in an automobile crash at First street and Tustin avenue, Tustin, last August 10, were assessed at $35,000, in addition to medical expenses, as Mrs. Inez Ferguson and Mrs. Cora Stinson filed suit in superior court yesterday against Frank W. Foster, asking damages. The plaintiffs were passengers in a car driven by Charles A. Hodson, which collided with the Foster machine.

Mrs. Stinson, who suffered three broken ribs, a fractured pelvis and other injuries, asked $25,000, and $37 as medical expenses. Mrs. Ferguson, who received internal injuries and bruises, sued for $10,000, and $58.14 medical expenses.

FIND COBRA'S CARCASS
CHICO, Cal. — (UP) — Rattlesnakes may not be the only poisonous reptiles in California. Enos Brown reported finding the carcass of a snake that he believed to be a cobra in a rice field fish trap at Durham. Investigators here said it tallied with encyclopedia descriptions of the cobra, and may have been the former "pet" of a Hindu farm worker.

Harbor Dredging Work Gets Under Way At Newport

EQUIPMENT FOR HUGE PROJECT IS MOVED IN

Work of removing approximately 8,000,000 cubic yards of sand and material from Newport Harbor will commence next Wednesday morning, it was learned today. The San Francisco Bridge company, subsidiary bidder on the project, was brought into Newport Beach Wednesday, and yesterday the first of three barges to do the work was towed into the harbor.

Local men will be used wherever possible in the work. It was learned from the Federal Re-employment Agency in Santa Ana. The first contingent of six Orange county men went to work yesterday afternoon on the preliminary details of the job. In all a crew of 40 men, consisting of 13 deck hands, 8 marine firemen and 19 levymen will be used.

All labor for the job will be hired through the Federal Re-employment Agency, where they will be quizzed on qualifications. Every qualified man possible will be used, Charles Fallert, director for the local agency, said, but he feared many would not meet the requirements.

Approximately nine miles of channels, turning basins and anchorages will be dredged out in the course of the $1,835,000 project. The work will be done by the Standard Dredging Company with its electric dredges Los Angeles and Point Loma, and the San Francisco Bridge company, with the electric dredge John McMullin. The entrance channel will be deepened to 20 feet by U. S. Army engineers with the federal hopper dredge San Pablo.

Preliminary work is under the direction of Capt. R. Hyman of the San Francisco Bridge company, and the entire dredging work will be in charge of Captain Matson of the same company, it was said. C. E. Hildebrand is Army engineer in charge of the development project assisted by Capt. E. E. Cruz, recently transferred to this district from the Philippines.

Officials of the dredging companies said yesterday that the project is scheduled to be completed by September, 1935, three months in advance of the war department time limit. Work on the channel and entrance turning basin will be completed by July 1, in time for the summer yachting season, under terms of the specifications for the work. The bid for the work totalled $879,255.

Construction of 4175 lineal feet of breakwaters at the entrance has been under way by the Rohl-Connelly company of San Pedro for the past two months.

Evangelist Otho Schwab, below, with his wife, Evangelist Billie Schwab, comes to Santa Ana next Sunday to conduct a revival campaign in the First Church of the Nazarene.

A mid-winter revival, conducted by Evangelists Otho and Billie Schwab, of Kansas City, Mo., will open at the First Church of the Nazarene, Fifth and Barton streets, next Sunday morning, according to announcement today by the Rev. G. E. Waddle, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwab, said the Rev. Mr. Waddle, are well and favorably known among Nazarenes, having conducted successfully revival campaigns in many of the larger churches of the South and Middle West. The Santa Ana church, he said, "is happy to announce their coming." The evangelists will be heard each night in song and sermon at 7:30, excepting Saturday. The meetings will continue through Sunday, January 13.

FUNERAL FOR EBELL FOUNDER SET TOMORROW

Funeral services for Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, founder and first president of Santa Ana Ebell society, will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. from the Los Angeles West Adams Presbyterian church of which she was an active member.

The pastor, Dr. W. E. Roberts, formerly of Santa Ana First Presbyterian church, will conduct the services, assisted by Dr. Dana Bartlett and Dr. Hershel Griffin. Interment will be in Oakland where Mrs. Bartlett's husband, W. S. Bartlett, is buried.

Mrs. Bartlett was president of the local Ebell society from 1894 to 1897. For more than half a century she had been prominent in social, religious and civic work in Southern California, serving as president of Los Angeles Ebell club in 1914 and 1915.

Her death came yesterday at the family residence, 3209 West Adams street in Los Angeles. She was 81 years of age. She was a relative of the poet, Sidney Lanier, and is survived by her son, Lanier Bartlett; her daughter, Mrs. James Henry French; her four grandchildren, Franklin Gray French, James Henry French Jr., W. S. Bartlett and Sidney Lanier Bartlett, and her great-grandson, Sidney Lanier Bartlett Jr.

PROBLEMS OF TRAFFIC FORM LEAGUE TOPIC

Important phases of highway and motoring problems, from the standpoint of officer, public and automobile clubs, were discussed at length last night before the Orange County League of Municipalities at the Green Cat cafe.

Speakers included Ivan Kelso, general counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, Capt. Henry Meehan of the Orange county squad of the California Highway Patrol, George Stinson, safety officer of the patrol, and Mayor Harold Pomeroy of Southgate, field representative of the League of California Municipalities.

Pomeroy also gave a brief review of the recent legislation and decisions regarding state liquor control, especially the action of the state board of equalization in placing enforcement of the laws up to local officers.

Kelso's talk included propositions favored by his club and other observations of his own experience. He urged standard signposting for highways and traced the activities of his club in this work. Regarding the proposed elimination of speed limits, he said he and the club would oppose such legislation because it invited motorists to go as fast as possible and local authorities would never agree on reasonable limits in towns.

He said that a move was being pushed to force the illumination of the rear end of commercial vehicles instead of the present sole use of tail lights, to decrease accidents. Operators' licenses should be hard to get and easy to lose, he said.

"Drunken driving is the most serious problem facing us," Kelso charged. "No matter what a person thinks of prohibition or liquor, we must all agree that it is utterly wrong to drive while drunk. No man alive who has been drinking to any extent can drive without reflexes being affected. I am in favor of changing the penalties to require more drastic punishment, especially where there is injury or death from accidents."

"Constant education is needed to decrease accidents and promote safety," he said.

Capt. E. Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patrol, was scheduled to speak but was called to Imperial Valley late yesterday and could not attend.

Captain Meehan followed Kelso as speaker and emphasized many of the points previously brought out.

Meehan opposed elimination of speed limits and said the practice was not successful in other states. He said that 95 per cent of the accidents are caused by violating the motor vehicle act.

"Three things that will lower the accident rate are education, closer observance of laws and common courtesy," Meehan said.

Differing with Kelso, Meehan said that white cars were not better for patrol work because there were not enough cars or men to constantly patrol the highways. For this reason, the officer working in an ordinary car can be more effective and equipment is no longer entirely white, he pointed out.

"A survey of Orange county accidents show that 35 per cent are caused by too much speed and 50 per cent of fatal accidents are from the same cause," the captain said.

Stinson, known as "the singing cop," preceded his short talk with three vocal numbers, accompanied by his wife. He explained the safety campaign he was conducting through the state and declared that he had made 81 appearances before an estimated attendance of 1,400,000 persons. The safety talks and programs are given chiefly before school groups, since future drivers will come from this group.

ELABORATE DECORATIONS ARRANGED FOR NEW YEAR'S ARTISTS' COSTUME BALL

Elaborate decorations will be among the outstanding features of the annual artists' costume ball of the Laguna Beach Art association to be held at Laguna Beach next Monday night, Dec. 31, New Year's eve, at the association galleries on Cliff Drive. The main gallery, to be used as a ballroom, will have distinctive themes of decorations as will the lower gallery, set aside for a floor show and a number of impromptu entertainment surprises.

Pomeroy predicted a hot fight in the legislature at the next session concerning gasoline tax distribution. He also explained the liquor control regulations which were announced in the press several days ago.

Commenting on the general liquor situation, Pomeroy remarked that three billion dollars were spent this year on liquor in the United States, or three times more than the national cost of relief for the same period.

President L. A. Hogue of Brea presided over the meeting, and the address of welcome was given by Mayor E. G. Warner of Santa Ana. Police Chiefs James Bouldin of Anaheim, James Pearson of Fullerton and George Franzen of Orange and Fire Chief John Luxon-bourger of Santa Ana, together with several of their officers were introduced.

The next meeting will be held at Fullerton on January 24.

MISSIONARIES OF A CHURCH ESCAPE DEATH

The escape of two women missionaries of the Evangelical church in China, who hid themselves in the hold of their boat for six days, after it had been captured by bandit troops while they were in flight from their remote missionary station in western Hunan Province, was learned with relief today by the pastor and congregation of First Evangelical church here, which assists in support of the mission.

The Rev. E. W. Matz, pastor of the Santa Ana church, is personally acquainted with one of the women, Miss Justine E. Granner, of Hubbard, Iowa, who was his classmate in theological school at Naperville, Illinois. The other missionary is Miss Anna M. Renninger, of Reading, Pennsylvania.

Press dispatches from Changteh, China, where the women found refuge, brought the first word of their definite danger, although it was known here that the missionary station had been abandoned, the Rev. Mr. Matz stated. Carl Wahl, superintendent of the station, abandoned it recently because of disturbed conditions in that area, after himself having a harrowing experience with bandits. He died a short time after leaving the post.

The Changteh dispatches contained meagre details of the experience reported by the two women missionaries after reaching there. They stated that when their boat was seized by the bandits they concealed themselves in the hold and escaped discovery throughout the six days of horror, while the bandits looted the adjacent city.

Twice during the six days, they said, they heard the bandit troops clattering across the decks over their heads, as the boat was used for a pontoon bridge.

How they managed their escape was not disclosed.

Miss Renninger arrived at the missionary station in China on May 5, 1929, records of the church show, said the Rev. Mr. Matz. Miss Granner went to the mission in 1930.

Field-Twist Wedding Takes Place In Episcopal Church

Christmas decorations at Episcopal Church of the Messiah provided a lovely setting yesterday afternoon at four o'clock for the wedding of Miss Enid Twist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Twist of Balboa Island, and Edward W. Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Field of Orange.

Poinsettias and cottons were given especially effective arrangement at the front of the chancel and on the pillars. The soft glow of tapers at the pews and at the altar added to the beauty of appointments.

Miss Ruth Armstrong was at the organ, playing "Anitra's Dance" (Grieg), "Liebestraum" (Liszt), "Elegy" (Massenet), "In a Country Garden" (Grainger) and a group of Christmas carols to precede the wedding ceremony.

The Rev. W. J. Hatter, pastor, was officiating minister.

Charles G. Twist gave his daughter in marriage. She presented a charming appearance in her wedding gown of white crepe, worn with a veil. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and blue delphiniums. Miss Kate Benton of La Cresenta, daughter of the Rev. W. J. Benton, former pastor of the local Episcopal church, was maid of honor. She wore a frock in apricot shade, with touches of gold and brown and a bouquet of Tallman roses. Leonard Field of Orange was best man.

One hundred guests were present for the event.

Newly Married Couple Establish Home In Sacramento

Following their marriage Sunday, December 23 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Beals, 1016 French street, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eugene Dawley have gone to Sacramento to establish their home.

Miss Dorothy Alice Beals became the bride of Mr. Dawley at a quiet ceremony read at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of a family group. Many glowing tapers lighted the room.

Sugar pink cones, juniper and fir boughs and other Christmas greens from Fallen Leaf lodge where the couple first met about three years ago, decorated the home for the wedding. Miss Beals and Mr. Dawley stood near the Christmas tree as they exchanged vows, with the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of First Congregational church, officiating.

The bride wore a formal gown of blue crepe with a corsage bouquet of gardenias. She was unattended.

Reception

The cutting of the elaborately decorated wedding cake was started by the new Mrs. Dawley, to be completed by her former roommate at the University of California, Miss Florence Odemar of Los Angeles. Mrs. Beal's niece, Mrs. Raymond Suppes of Glendale, poured coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawley took a short honeymoon trip, arriving in Glendale Christmas day to take part in a family dinner held in the home of Mrs. Beal's sister, Mrs. Jennie Suppes. Mr. and Mrs. Beal were among those present for the affair.

The newly-married couple went by train to Sacramento, where Mr. Dawley is an auditor on the Board of Equalization. He followed graduation from U. C. L. A. with a year of law at Stanford University. He is a member of Theta Xi fraternity. The new Mrs. Dawley had her college work at the local junior college, Scripps and the University of California, Berkeley, following graduation from Poly High school. She completed her studies with a business course at Sawyer's in Los Angeles.

Reception

A reception was held at the old Twist home, 1520 North Main street, where all decorations were in bridal white. Mrs. Twist was crowned in blue and silver, with a corsage cluster of gardenias. She had made the wedding confection, a real English bride's cake of elaborate design, which was served with other dainties and tea.

The Misses Dorothy Forgy, Evelyn Metzgar, Josephine Roy and Florence Bagley, a group of the bride's most intimate friends, assisted in service. Tea was poured by Miss Bertha Barclay, principal of Wilson school, where the bride has been teaching. Mrs. P. P. Freeman and Mrs. Ross Shafer, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Balboa Beach.

Panhellenic society's annual dance for the benefit of student loan fund was held last night in Orange American Legion hall, where silvered trees and other appointments in silver and blue provided a glamorous background for the evening's festivities.

Silver reindeer figures framed the stage, which appeared to be in a fairyland forest made up of silvered trees of graduated sizes. Their blue balls shone in the glow of flood lights and electric candles which lined the walls. Blue cellophane wreaths and pompons above archways and suspended from the chandeliers enhanced the effective setting.

Louise Shirey's orchestra provided music for dancing. Punch was served in the lobby, where red candles added a colorful touch to the appointments.

Croddy, president of the society, and committees including Mrs. Harry Le Bard, orchestra; Miss Leta Blythe, time and place; Miss Reva Hawkins, patrons and patronesses; Miss Betty Burnham, refreshments; Mrs. Jack Hill, publicity; Mrs. Robert Guild, tickets; Miss Ruth Bradley, decorations.

I am quite sure you have no desire to get your protein requirements in the wild state, so do not cook Brussels sprouts "as is" just because they look cool and clean and the vendor tells you they have no bugs. Men were ever deceivers and bugs are no respecters of vegetables. Soak Brussels sprouts in warm salty water, pressing the sprouts under the water with a small plate. It will amaze you to see what floats to the top. I won't go into details, but you soak them not once, but in several waters before cooking.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Banana Whip

3 large ripe bananas, sliced
1-3 cup sugar
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1-2 tsp. vanilla and dash of salt
1-2 cup whipped cream and
1 stiffly beaten egg white
Finely chopped walnuts and extra sliced bananas

Slice bananas and cook with sugar and lemon juice until well scalded. Cool, flavor and fold up into the stiffly whipped cream. Line chilled glasses with sliced banana, fill with the whip and set in refrigerator to chill until wanted. Sprinkle top with chopped nuts when ready to serve.

Of the unfrozen chilled desserts, this is the best. Easy to make, may be done any time, and both good to look at and eat. Six portions in the recipe. 225 calories per serving, all energy makers.

Russian Apples

6 large baking apples
6 heaping Tbsp. mince meat
1-2 cup sugar
1 cup water
Juice of 1 lemon and
1 orange
Hard Sauce for serving
This is a glorified hot fruit dessert, gratifying one's desire for spicy mince meat without trouble of pie making.

Core apples, generously, fill with mince meat and start the baking in a brisk oven. Make a syrup of the sugar, water and fruit juices, use to baste the baking apples. Take up carefully in deep serving dishes, with a little hot syrup and top each apple with well chilled hard sauce.

Halibut Mousse

2 cups raw halibut
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2-3 cup thin cream
2 Tbsp. flour mixed with
1 Tbsp. soft butter
Salt and pepper
4 stiffly beaten egg whites
Scald the thick slice (1 pound)

fish in boiling water, then blanch in cold water. Remove skin and bones and run fish through food chopper. Heat milk, add soft crumbs and stir until the mixture simmers and blends. Mix flour and butter, drop into milk and stir until mixture is thick. Add the fish and season. Let this part cool completely before combining with the stiffly whipped egg whites. Bake in individual buttered moulds, moulds place in a pan of hot water, time 1 hour in a slow oven.

There are four good egg yolks holding their hands, so let's make a rich cheesy sauce to serve with the mousse: heat 1 cup of milk, beat the yolks smooth and stir in, cooking until slightly thickened, and as the cooking proceeds (in a double boiler), add a cup of grated cheese, a little mustard and 2 Tbsp. of butter, bit by bit. When fully cooked, add salt and lemon juice until the right flavor, then beat to a frothy consistency with the egg beater.

Saturday: Braised Beef; Dutch Lettuce Salad; Casseroled Stuffed Pork Chops.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

By VERA RAMSEY

No more splendid, virile spectacle than the California Gold Rush ever took place. Historian Bancroft declared its nearest rival to be the Crusades. It made gold free in unlimited quantities to any and all for the first time in forty centuries. Louis J. Stellman tells the story of the gold rush days in "Mother Lode."

There was never a social upheaval equal to it nor a political renaissance as bizarre and complete. Fortune hunters came from everywhere in an unparalleled stampede. Towns were depopulated, their stores abandoned. Hundreds of ships rocked crewless in California seaports; school teachers deserted their pupils; churches had to close. Doctors, lawyers, soldiers flocked to the American River, gold-diggers from every walk of life made their own laws around camp-fires or in gambling tents. Horse-stealing became a capital offense and homicide a casual accomplishment.

Louis Stellman is the man to portray this period sympathetically and accurately. For "Mother Lode" he made first-hand investigations and an enormous amount of painstaking research. He is a photographer of distinction as well as an author and has supplied many unusual illustrations for his book. "Mother Lode" is more appealing than fiction, more romantic than history, and as vitally, emotionally dramatic as the search for the Golden Fleece.

He followed Glory all his days. She gave him favor withheld from most men and denied herself when his need for her was surest. When he died on the heights above the Little Bighorn, Glory wove splendored to blaze behind the brilliant name of George Armstrong Custer. Frederic F. Van de Water tells the life-story of General Custer in "Glory Hunter."

There has hitherto been no critical biography of Custer. Without close and thorough study it is impossible to make sense of this enigma. After prolonged research, Mr. Van de Water supplies the lack—the first complete and critical life of Custer.

Here for the first time in full clearness is his West Point record and his Civil War record. We read of his burning of Shenandoah farms and lynching of confederate troops. His court-martial is explained. We are told why Benten was his life-long enemy. The quarrel between Stanley and Custer on the Yellowstone Expedition; the treachery to Terry; the long, gambling chance of the Little Bighorn and what happened there are revealed from documents and letters never before printed.

Here is the discovery of the mainspring of Custer's action, a constant amid all the amazing contradictions. He was ever the devotee of Glory. "Glory Hunter" reduces myth to reality and touches with truth a life that was stirring romance.

"Half Mile Down" by William Beebe is a book filled with the wonders of a world still unknown to men. It is as fascinating and colorful as the "Adventures of Marco Polo" must have been to his first spellbound readers. There is the great difference, however, that Dr. Beebe is primarily a scientist who has in his pursuit of knowledge distinguished himself as one of the most courageous and skillful of modern explorers.

Dr. Beebe's narrative opens with an interesting record of man's earliest efforts to explore the depths. We read of Alexander the Great's famous exploit in his diving bell. There were curious ancient and Renaissance experiments with goat skins and filmy apparatus. Dr. Beebe then discusses the achievements of modern times and finally the most successful attempts of all—made with the Diving Helmet and the Bathysphere or deep sea diving bell. In describing the latter, he launches into the history of his own adventures and tells about submarine kingdoms that are enchanting and miraculous, so new that "all words and phrases, similes and superlatives seem hopelessly inadequate."

These tales of adventure and discovery beneath the seas are supplemented with many exciting and beautiful illustrations.

TABULATION OF FISH TYPES IS RADIO SUBJECT

Details of tabulating the types, kinds and number of fish in the nation's streams and rivers will be given in tomorrow's broadcast of "Romance Under the Water" from KREG at 11 a. m. as prepared by Frank T. Bell, United States Commissioner of Fisheries, one of the series of such broadcasts.

"Great men, from Presidents on down, have been addicted to that series of literature known as the detective story. The general public has an overwhelming interest in the technique of Inspector Wileh of Scotland Yard as he solves the mystery of who killed who and why. I, therefore, feel that I may strike a responsive note in describing some of the activities of a new type of aquatic detective," Commissioner Bell said.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Francis Lederer, romantic Continental star who recently deserted the stage for pictures, will appear as guest artist on the hour-long

"Hollywood Hotel" program over KHJ from 6:30 to 7:30 tonight. Assisted by J. Farrell McDonald, veteran character actor, Lederer will offer dramatic excerpts from their new picture, "Romance of Manhattan."

Turning to Vincent Youman, the Caswell Carollers will offer excerpts from "Great Day" and "Hit the Deck" during their program over an NBC network.

SATURDAY

Abram Chasins, talented young American composer-pianist, will devote his "Piano Pointers" program to a group of all-request numbers during his broadcast over KHJ at 9:45 a. m. Saturday.

Donizetti's famous opera, "Lucia Di Lammermoor," in which Lily Pons, French coloratura soprano, made her Metropolitan debut four years ago, will be heard in its entirety Saturday, over an NBC transcontinental network, including KFI, at 11 p. m. Miss Pons will be heard again in the title role, with Richard Bonelli, baritone, and Nino Martini, tenor, in the principal supporting roles of Lord Enrico Ashton and Edgardo.

American radio fans will be treated to one of the most interesting special feature broadcasts ever attempted when, on Saturday, from 12:15 to 12:30 p. m. the Columbia network, including KHJ, will present a program from the only dry spot in the Pacific Ocean—the coffee-dam, 127 feet below sea level, formed by the steel and concrete tender for the south pier of the Golden Gate Bridge, now under construction.

"Analyzing a Voice" will be undertaken through use of the sound microscope by Dr. E. E. Free, speaking from his laboratory in New York's famous Flatiron building, on Saturday, from 4:30 to 4:45 p. m. over the Columbia Broadcasting System network, including KHJ. This is to be the fourth and concluding broadcast in a series which has featured Dr. Free's demonstrations with the sound microscope.

"Like a Star in the Night" and "Kolo," two original numbers written for the program, other familiar Romberg selections and a medley of excerpts from Oscar Strauss operettas will be highlights of the Swift Hour Saturday, over an NBC nationwide network, including KFI, at 5 p. m.

The "Roxy and His Gang" program over KHJ Saturday from 5 to 5:45 p. m., will give listeners an intimate behind-the-scenes peek into the making of a radio program. The broadcast will be completely informal, with no orchestra and no prepared script, and the singers will be heard with piano accompaniment, just as they are during preliminary program rehearsals.

GLENN RANCH ROAD

The mountain road between Glenn Ranch and Camp Baldy, which passes through arresting back country is usually not advisable for travel during the winter, as the summit pass is often blocked by snow.

Crime Story On Front Page Program

Under the title of "Number 88 West," a thrilling, intense drama of a manhunt aboard a crack train with a surprising climax in which a clever bank robber encounters a still cleverer operator will be enacted tonight at 8:45 on KREG, another in the series of "Front Page Dramas" broadcast each Friday.

The cast tonight will feature Charles Cantor, famous radio blackface star.

KREG NOTES

The latest releases of popular dance tunes will be offered during the Newport Harbor American Legion Post 291 presentation tonight at 8:45, announcing the Hi-Jinx to be held New Year's Eve.

For the first time in many months, KREG was off the air for over an hour yesterday morning, due to power failure. When power was restored, it was necessary to wait for over an hour to allow time for the crystal ovens to return to normal temperature. Two, heavy copper ovens maintain a temperature of 43.4 degrees centigrade within a thousandth of a degree, directly controlling the frequency of operation. With every degree of variation, the frequency changes approximately 30 cycles or 30 parts in 1,500,000 cycles; in other words, 1,500 kilocycles. Federal regulations require that all broadcasting stations maintain their assigned frequency within 50 cycles.

A 45-minute program of instrumental classics will be offered tonight, starting at 7 o'clock.

Stolen cars broadcasts, describing the cars stolen, the license numbers and in whose names they are registered, are made twice daily from KREG, excepting Sundays, at 12 noon and immediately following the evening broadcast of late news of Orange county at 6:30 p. m.

The concluding broadcast of the series titled "Forty Miles of Christmas Smiles" was made last night.

ESCAPED HUNTERS

COMPTONVILLE, Cal.—(UP)—There is one buck, at least, whose life was spared during the last deer hunting season. His antlers have been sawed off and he has a small bell hanging from his neck. He recently paraded the streets of Comptonville, amusing himself by chasing school children, and later visited a CCC camp, making the boys run for cover.

Instruction

MAKING THE TAXPAYER COMFORTABLE WITH HIS BURDEN

A proposition has been placed before the governor, for his approval, to add some $53,000,000 to the expenses of the next biennium. This would bring the total expenses of the state, for that period, to something over a quarter of a billion dollars. It would add one-fifth to our present all-too-heavy tax load.

It is strange that men in public office cannot apply the principles to government which must be applied to private affairs in order to continue in business at all. This additional sum is fantastic and ridiculous. We cannot believe it is suggested in good faith.

We are constrained to believe, on the contrary, that it is put out for the purpose of producing an air of contentment among the taxpayers if the expenses are kept about where they are now.

The biggest problem that confronts California is the raising of the money to pay the expenses of the government. Some politically-minded people seem to think that devising a method to raise money is all that is required.

But whatever this device, it must be remembered that the money comes out of the pockets of the people, and it doesn't make any difference, as far as this principle is concerned, whether it is an ad valorem tax or a sales tax.

The only way that the intensity of the problem can be lessened is to reduce expenses, whatever may be the method of raising the money.

We are inclined to believe, sometimes, that some men in public office think that their success is evidenced by the amount of money that they spend and the amount that is raised by taxes. This is on the same theory that a business man considers that one standard of his success is determined by his gross sales.

Such politicians forget that the business man's real success is determined by the difference between his gross sales and his expenses, and it is only as his expenses are kept down, substantially below his income, that his solvency can be continued.

All of the stockholders in our political unit are out endeavoring to make sales, so to speak, to get income. And they employ officials for the purpose of running the common expense, with the idea of keeping it as low as possible, so that the citizens and the community, as a whole, will carry on.

The tendency of office-holders, who forget these fundamentals, is to have the idea increased as they are further and further removed from the time when they themselves were carrying on their private business.

This is one of the reasons why it is wise to change officials from time to time and take men from the walks of life whose main problem has been not to assess taxes, but to dig them out of the ranch or out of the factory or out of the store.

THE LONG LOOK AHEAD

The story of the 20-year planning program being unfolded by the promoters of the New Deal is certainly startling and daring. It is an announcement to the people of this country that, so far as those now in power are concerned, we are done with aimlessness and planlessness in our national life and economy.

There was a time when a billion dollars looked very big. We have come to a time when men of public affairs are talking in terms of scores of billions of dollars without "batting an eyelash" or arousing the spirit of staring wonderment.

We have come to a day when the affairs of a great nation of more than 120 millions of people are to be regimented into a great program of human betterment. It is staggering to think about. It makes the imaginations of most of us dizzy.

Never in our national history were the brains of the nation marshaled to perfect a greater task. Never have the forces hitherto looked upon as natural and unchangeable been taken hold of with greater confidence to shape and mold after the heart of human desires.

We dare not prophesy what the future has in store for such daring plans. We know too well the fickleness of the masses. With all our conquests in the realms of science, the forces of opposition have not yet all been mobilized.

Yet here is presented to us a great drama to be played on a great national stage. We dare to hope that we have started on the right road.

We would stand by the adventurous spirits who would lead the people on. Our one fear always is that the great plans may become bogged through human selfishness or become the prey of battling political factions more devoted to public plunder than to the largest public good.

The people of the nation are being called upon to a great and daring enterprise. Will they respond with a co-operative courage? That is the great question to challenge us in the immediate future.

BETTING ON THE NEW YEAR'S FOOTBALL GAME

There is considerable excitement over the discovery of lottery tickets based on the outcome of the Stanford-Alabama football game on January 1st.

Under the law legalizing race-track gambling there is no provision which permits it in football, but we are rather afraid it will be difficult to get people greatly excited over the illegality of the one when the other is a perfectly legal sport.

This is one serious trouble in the establishment of precedents. If they are wrong, they tend to break down right in every other direction.

"TO WHAT BASE USES"

So spoke Hamlet as he held in his hands the skull of "Poor Yorick." The words are recalled as we read that the one-time magnificent yacht of the former German Kaiser, now an exile in Holland, has been captured by the Dutch customs authorities as a rum-runner.

On that yacht some of the most momentous conferences of modern history were held in the days when the Kaiser was feared by all the world. Now its glory has departed.

Sold at auction in Rotterdam after the fall of the Kaiser, it became a dirty freighter in the coastwise trade. Then it sank lower and it became a rum-runner. Now it is taken over by the same government which has given its former owner a refuge from the stormy world in which his dominant figure was so transcending.

What must the "gentleman of Doorn" think as he reads the story of his yacht? No one will ever know. The Kaiser has suffered many humiliations, and one more cannot add very much to the sum of them.

The 19th and the 20th centuries have seen the humiliation of the two greatest historic figures of modern times—Napoleon Bonaparte ate his heart out amid the barren rocks of his island home of St. Helena off the African coast. Wilhelm is reported to be enjoying his garden and his woodpile, but who can imagine the fires of bitterness that are burning in his soul?

If the greatest tragedy is to be measured by the heights from which a great world figure has fallen, then the former Kaiser of Germany presents one of the most tragic figures of the world of today.

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS AND THE NLR DECISION

Twelve hundred newspapers have been called into immediate convention to consider the National Labor Relations board's action in the San Francisco Call-Bulletin case.

In this particular matter a news man on the Call-Bulletin was active in Newspaper Guild work, virtually a labor union of news writers. He was discharged for attending one of their conventions.

The National Labor Relations board ordered his reinstatement on the ground that the action of the publisher had violated section 7-A of the code. The newspaper men claimed that their code and their organization was the one which should determine this whole matter, and that while this particular incident did not actually raise the question of the freedom of the press, it might do so if the National Labor Relations board were permitted, in this case, to assume jurisdiction.

We have never been greatly disturbed by the fear of the invasion of the freedom of the press by the NRA provision. We cannot see how the freedom of the press can be jeopardized by what the workers on the paper may or may not do when not in actual employment, or what organizations they may or may not join, or by the method of determining their employment.

None of this goes to the right of the owner or publisher to express such opinions as he desires. This is the essence of the freedom of the press. Still some danger may lurk in this which we are unable to see.

Sir Arthur Pinero

Christian Science Monitor

Sir Arthur Pinero was as responsible for the masterpiece of the modern English drama as could be any man who did not actually write them. Before his day, social and political ideas were rigidly excluded from the fashionable contemporary English theater. It was he who opened the door to them, and made it possible for Shaw, Galsworthy, Barker and their followers to bring them right in.

Pinero served 10 years' apprenticeship as an actor, playing with the companies of Irving and other distinguished figures of the late nineteenth century stage. His first piece, called "2200 a Year," was produced in 1877, and his last, "A Cold June," in 1921. Between those dates, though he never acquired command of easy, natural dialogue, he wrote several plays of more than passing significance, including "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "Mid-Channel," and "Trelawney of the Wells."

The chief influence of Pinero on the English drama derived from the fact that in his early days the public thought him a much profounder thinker than he actually was. The public took Pinero's most successful plays as proof that ideas on the stage could be entertaining, and thus when thinkers of deeper caliber began to write for the theater they had an audience prepared at least to give them a chance. In this way, Pinero's popularity, resulting from his skill in construction and capacity for inventing neat problem plays made him one of the principal architects of the modern drama.

The Vanishing Ear-Muff

New York Times

Where are the ear-muffs of yesterday? In recent bitterly cold days one would have expected to see them everywhere, but a curious observer, gazing at thousands of male ears around Manhattan, found them all naked. A rumor that a pair of ear-muffs had been seen on East Ninety-third street could not be verified. One school of thought maintains that ear-muffs are still worn on occasion by policemen, but it has not yet definitely established its claims.

What has happened to us? The theory that the Winters are milder than they used to be has been statistically exploded. Are our ears so much harder than those of our fathers that we no longer need to coddle them? Have we become tougher all around, discarding ear-muffs for the same reason that we have practically abandoned heavy underwear and high shoes? Such wild suppositions run counter to all the books proving our modern decadence. Is it merely that we have become ashamed and would rather have our ears fall off than confess that they are frozen?

Whatever the explanation, the ear-muff industry must be indeed a sick one. Diligent inquiry reveals that it has not even an NRA code of its own. The people who make rings for hogs' noses have their own code, which opens with the ringing declaration: The term "Hog Ring and Ringer Manufacturing Industry" is defined to mean the manufacture for sale of Hog Rings and Ringers.

More Truth Than Poetry

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

The world is constantly receiving star dust to replenish its substance.

I have been just a tiny bit worried
Lest this rapidly rotating earth,
While on through its orbit it hurried,
Might be constantly shrinking in girth.
It's bulk, I believed, might diminish
As swiftly it moves on and on.
And how will humanity finish
When the poor frazzled planet is gone?

If at last it shall shrink to the size of a pea,
Life may not be so pleasant for you and for me.

If, after some billions of eons,
Bringing tempests and landslides and rain,
The mountains will vanish, and we-uns
Must dwell on a flat, level plain.
Our buildings will tremble and totter
While year follows heartbreaking year,
And nothing but wide rolling water
May be found on our swift spinning sphere.

The fish still will swim in the sea, I admit,
But that will not help us the least little bit.
Yet the outlook is not so alarming;
There is really small cause for concern:
The farmer may go right on farming,
The dairyman work at his churn,
Things are not all at sixes and sevens,
From the future we need not recoil:
For the countless stars in the heavens
Let us still our repining and lay by our fears;
This old world will last many millions of years.

Thoughts On Modern Life

CAUTION IN MEDICAL POLITICS

When the committee on the Costs of Medical Care announced its liberal reaction to the issue of socialized medicine, the more cautious minority of this committee expressed its opinion in a "seven point program."

(1) That government competition in the practice of medicine be discontinued and that its activities be restricted (a) to the care of the indigent and of those patients with diseases which can be cared for only in governmental institutions; (b) to the promotion of public health; (c) to the support of the medical departments of the Army and Navy, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and other government services which cannot be because of their nature or location be served by the general medical profession; and (d) to the care of veterans suffering from bona fide service-connected disabilities and diseases, except in the case of tuberculosis and nervous and mental diseases.

(2) That government care of the indigent be expanded with the ultimate object of relieving the medical profession of this burden.

(3) That the study, evaluation and coordination of medical service be considered important functions for every state and local community, that agencies be formed to exercise these functions, and that the coordination of rural with urban services receive special attention.

(4) That united attempts be made to restore the general practitioner to the central place in medical practice.

(5) That the corporate practice of medicine, financed through intermediary agencies be vigorously and persistently opposed as being economically wasteful, inimical to a continued and sustained high quality of medical care, or unfair exploitation of the medical profession.

(6) That methods be given careful trial which can rightly be fitted into our present institutions and agencies without interfering with the fundamental of medical practice.

(7) The development by state or county medical societies of plans for medical care. (In formulating such plans, the minority declared, "We are not opposed to insurance but only to the abuses that have practically always accompanied insurance medicine.")

Tomorrow I shall present the "eight point program" of the American College of Surgeons which stands in striking contrast to the more rigid position of the American Medical Association.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

PARENTAL SLAVERY

Parents often need a little consideration at the hands of their children. Oftener than not they do not get it. I don't blame the children so much, although they are to blame too, because the father or mother prepares the setting for this lack of consideration.

Not long ago I saw a weary mother make her way through the crowded playground of a big public school. It was pouring rain. The sidewalks were running streams and the roads were awash from curb to curb. The children had come to school unprepared for the storm and were huddled in the playground waiting for umbrellas and raincoats and sweaters and rubbers. The mothers and big brothers and sisters were searching for their charges in the crowd. It was all great run if you looked at it that way, as the children did.

This mother trudged into the room bearing a pile of garments and carrying a basket, a pitcher and a bagful of hot luncheon. She found her two children and shooed them ahead of her to a bench. Here she served them. First she deposited her load on the floor. Out of a bag hanging from her arm she took a washrag and a cake of soap. She washed the children's faces, dried them with a towel, brushed their hair and put on their sweaters.

Now she proceeded to spread out the lunch and serve that. She fed them alternately until they were satisfied. Then she wiped their hands and faces once more, packed the remains of the meal, and the used dishes. Next she put on two pairs of rubbers on two pairs of feet, two raincoats on two sturdy backs, a cap on each bobbing head and ushered two healthy sturdy boys of ten and twelve out of the yard. "I am taking them home now," said she. "I don't want to come back for them this afternoon in all the rain."

I was amazed. I knew these two boys as active, mischievous, healthy youngsters and here was their mother, plainly overworked, treating them as she did when they were three or two and a half. The boys suffered it because they had been reared that way. Imagine a twelve year old boy being fed from a spoon. And his rubbers being pushed on his feet by his mother who had trudged through a soaking rain-storm for the purpose. The whole thing is wrong. The children are ruined and the mother is killed. Slavery on both sides.

Over and over I see tired mothers slaving for children who do not understand what it is all about. Mothers sacrificing years of their lives, shortening their useful lives, for the sake of enslaving themselves and their children. One cannot leave home for an hour because the child would miss her. Another cannot join a music class that she longs to enjoy because she must stay at home to make Honey's cocoa. Still another could not possibly go for a drive on Saturday because Helen has her classmates in and she must be there to serve the refreshments.

Children thrive better when they help themselves. They begin to grow the day they begin to stand on their own mental legs. They begin to develop character the day they begin to serve someone beside themselves and to show some consideration for their mothers and fathers. You can't always blame the children. Certain phases of motherly affection are akin to grasping selfishness.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
